APPOINTMENT APPROVED BY HIS MAJESTY

John Buchan Expresses His Pride at Being Chosen for Governor

POPULAR WITH ALL
CLASSES AT HOME

LONDON, March 27 (CP).—John Buchan, who will shortly become Canada's Governor-General, tonight expressed the pride and pleasure he felt at his selection.

Official announcement was made that His Majesty had approved the appointment, whereupon the distinguished Scottish writer and parliamentarian broke the silence he had maintained on Tuesday, when the unofficial report he had been chosen was circulated.

"I am extremely proud to have been chosen as His Majesty's representative in Canada, and not less proud to be given a chance of serving Canada," Mr. Buchan said.

KNOWS CANADA

Interviewed at his Westminster club, Mr. Buchan referred to the fact that he had known Canada for many years; had stayed with Viscount Byng of Vimy when the latter was Governor-General at Ottawa a decade ago, and had fished in the Maritimes.

"I am looking forward," he said earnestly, "to increasing my Canadian friendships, and deepening my knowledge of the Dominion."
"As a historian, I have always been fascinated by the romance of Canada's history and her wonderful development in recent years, and I shall count it a special privilege to see at close quarters her handling of the new problems she has to face in common with the whole world."

"I am very certain they will be handled with courage and wisdom."

BOY SCOUTS TO LIGHT BEACONS

Lord Baden-Powell to Start Winnipeg Link of National Wide Chain

OTTAWA, March 27 (CP).—Plans for the celebration of the King's Silver Jubilee, May 6, by a chain of Boy Scout beacons across Canada, with Lord Baden-Powell lighting the "Mid-Canada" beacon at Winnipeg, were announced today at Dominion headquarters of the Boy Scouts Association.

The first beacon will be lighted at dusk on the shores of the Atlantic by one of the easternmost Scout units in Cape Breton Island, and as twilight rolls westward bonfires will flare up at scouting centers across the Maritimes, Quebec and Ontario, to Manitoba.

WILL TAKE PART

At Winnipeg, Lord Baden-Powell, world chief Scout, on his way East on a tour of the Dominion, will participate in the ceremony of lighting a beacon which has been designed the "Mid-Canada" beacon. Lighting of this beacon will post on the bonfire celebration of Scouts of Eastern Canada to those of the West, across the Prairies and British Columbia, to conclude with a final flare on a headland overlooking the Pacific.

SALUTE OF ROCKETS

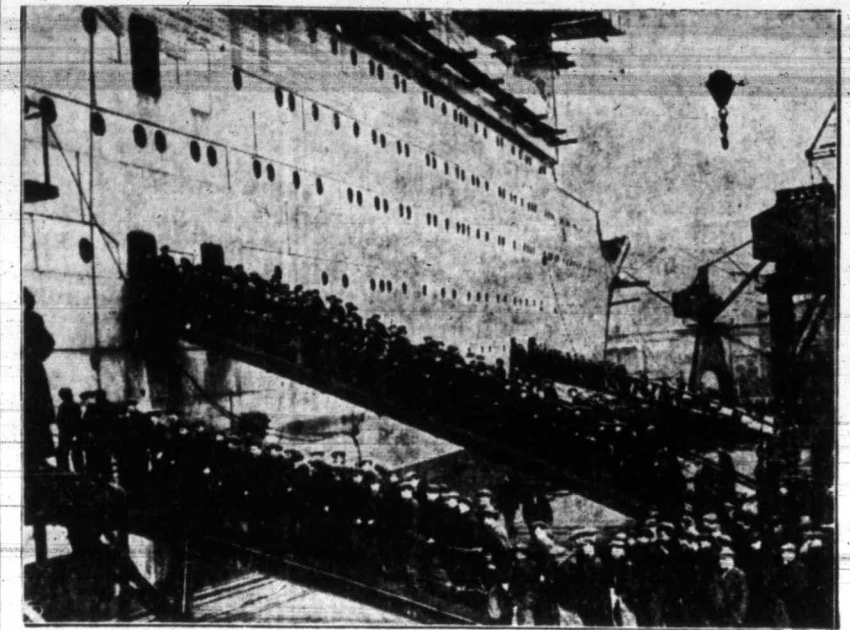

In addition to the beacons, wherever possible, a royal salute of twenty-one rockets will be fired. These will be set off immediately preceding lighting of the bonfires. In communities where surrounding hills make it possible, it is planned to light a circle of beacons, in turn, each preceded by rocket salute. Suitable ceremonies, with brief addresses and singing of the National Anthem, will accompany lighting of the fires. Girl Guides will be invited to participate.

GIANT AIRPLANE MAKES FINE HOP

Machine for Trans-Pacific Service
Flies Non-Stop 2,700 Miles
In Eleven Hours

ACAPULCO, Mexico, March 27 (AP).—The Pan-American "Clipper" giant airplane to be used in exploring a trans-Pacific passenger route, arrived here at 7:30 Central standard time, tonight, completing a 2,700-mile non-stop flight from Miami in 11 hours and 5 minutes. The plane was to stop overnight here, with its crew of six, before continuing to San Diego, Cal. The pilot said the flight to this city, on the Western Coast of Mexico, had been successful in every way. It is planned to fly to San Francisco on Friday.

List of Demands Made By Hitler Much Weightier Than Supposed at First

Negotiators Fought From Opposite Trenches Eighteen Years Ago

BERLIN, March 27 (AP).—Adolf Hitler and Anthony Eden discovered by accident, it was disclosed today, that they were lying in directly opposite trenches on a Great War battlefield exactly eighteen years ago to the day. The amazing coincidence was realized by both men during a luncheon at the British Embassy while the peace conversations were in progress.

While illustrating a point, Eden turned his menu card over and drew a map of a British sector showing exactly which trench sheltered him in 1917. Hitler then took Eden's card and drew a sketch of his own trench opposite.

Government Caucus Reported to Favor September Election

Parliament Likely to Adjourn on Easter Eve—Prime Minister R. B. Bennett Expected to Play Part in Final Deliberations

OTTAWA, March 27 (CP).—Adjournment of Parliament on Easter Eve for about five weeks and a September election were said tonight to have found favor with those who attended today's Government caucus. No official statement was forthcoming, but it was learned that these matters were discussed and the decision will be reached by Cabinet Council.

Reassuring reports of Prime Minister R. B. Bennett's condition were given the caucus by Sir George Perley, who presided. The Prime Minister has about a week to go on his prescribed period in bed, and it was stated his improvement had been steadily maintained for more than two weeks.

Adjournment until about the last week in May will be taken on April 18 unless present plans are changed, according to the best information. It is understood no change would be made in the statute respecting revision of the voters' list, which will become operative on May 15 and necessitate a delay in publication of the new list until the end of July at the earliest.

Long adjournment would provide ample time for full consideration of the report of the Mass Buying Commission and preparation of any legislation that may arise from it.

TO PLAY HIS PART

It would also permit the Prime Minister to play a part in the final deliberations of the session, and handle certain phases of Government policy to which he has particularly applied himself, such as the grain board, old-age pensions and possibly some further legislation dealing with unemployment.

It is now assumed that the Prime Minister will be able to attend the King's jubilee celebrations in London on May 6.

Sympathy Brings End to Council

MADRID, March 27 (AP).—The mayor and the city council of San Sebastian voted today to ask the Spanish Government to restore Miramar, the former royal palace, to the former King Alfonso. Replying, the Government dismissed the mayor and the entire council.

Driving Hard Bargain for Return of Germany to the League

MOSCOW EMPHATIC FOR SECURITY PACT

LONDON, March 27 (CP-Havas).—Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, tonight laid before the Cabinet a succinct verbal report of the conversations in Berlin with Chancellor Adolf Hitler. The meeting lasted only a short time and no statement was forthcoming after it.

The Cabinet adjourned after asking Sir John to prepare a complete memorandum setting forth in detail the information he gathered on Germany's attitude toward the peace and security proposals advanced by Britain, France and Italy.

As soon as the memorandum is completed, it will be placed before a special Cabinet meeting. Tomorrow, it is expected, the Foreign Secretary will make a brief declaration in the House of Commons concerning his Berlin trip with Anthony Eden, Lord Privy Seal.

AIR OF MYSTERY

Not in years has there been such an air of weighty diplomatic mystery in Downing Street and within the precincts of the Foreign Office. The British Foreign Secretary arrived this afternoon by plane from Berlin, but maintained the same good-humored secrecy which had characterized his Berlin statements for publication. Confronted by newspapermen, he said politely but firmly he had no statement to make.

Before the Cabinet meeting Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald spent half an hour with the King. There was little doubt in the minds of observers that His Majesty was interested.

SIX POLICEMEN HURT IN CLASH

Woman Leads Mob in Destructive Raid on Relief Offices in Toronto

TORONTO, March 27 (CP).—Led by a stubby, grey-haired woman wearing an old felt hat, 500 York Township unemployed raided the municipal relief offices here today, shattered windows and engaged in a stone and bottle-throwing riot with police. The demonstration, which lasted for nearly an hour before the crowd was dispersed, grew out of discontent of the jobless with relief allowances.

Six policemen were injured by flying bricks, glass, and fists and feet of the rioters. None was seriously enough hurt to retire from duty. Thirteen were arrested and held without bail.

TWO SHIPS COLLIDE IN DENSE FOG

LONDON, March 28 (AP).—The Hamburg-American liner St. Louis was reported to have collided early today in a dense fog in the Straits of Dover with a vessel which she could not identify. Shortly afterward a wireless message was picked up from the St. Louis, giving approximately the same position, saying she had collided with an unknown passenger vessel, causing serious damage to the port bow. The Delphin reported she was taking water.

Germany Making Heavy Purchases Of English Cotton

LONDON, March 27 (CP-Havas).—Heavy purchases of cotton and cotton goods by Germany in the London market during the last few days have caused interest in British official quarters. Cotton is used extensively for military purposes, and the possibility was seen that Germany may want some of the cotton goods to provide uniforms for its newly-created conscript army of 500,000 men.

SITUATION IS BETTER

President of Great Northern Railway Observes Many Signs of Improvement

"Yes, I would say that the general situation in the United States now appears to be much brighter than it has looked for some time past," William P. Kenney, president of the Great Northern Railway system, told a representative here of The Colonist on his arrival here yesterday for a ten-day visit. He and Mrs. Kenney will be guests at the Empress Hotel for that time.

The railway executive stated there were a lot of factors contributing to the improvement. A steadily growing demand for the products of basic industries, such as lumber and iron, was having a very beneficial effect, while the nation-wide house-building programme, sponsored by the Federal Administration, whereby it was possible to borrow money at extremely low rates of interest and on the most favorable terms, was helping to create a market for all manner of material necessary in the building trades, as well as providing employment for large numbers of skilled artisans.

MORE OPTIMISTIC

Coming across the country through the territory traversed by the Great Northern Railway, Mr. Kenney stated the farmers were more optimistic than they had been for some considerable time past. Experiencing a normal winter with good falls of snow, the agriculturists were expecting a normal year. Several bad seasons in succession had added to the general misery of the depression, and if there is a good yield of grain in 1935 it will help establish better days again for the wheat growers and the railroads, too. Crop failures in the past four years had meant a loss of over $40,000,000 to the Great Northern alone.

Prospects for a big movement of tourists to the Pacific Coast during the coming summer were exceptionally good, Mr. Kenney said, when he was asked about the travel. He stated that his company was in receipt of more inquiries about the western country than ever before. The American people moved about a lot. Florida did 100 per cent more business during the summer.

MOB LEGATION OF LITHUANIA

Germans in Berlin Howl Resentment at Death Sentences on Nazis

BERLIN, March 27 (AP).—Germans' resentment at death sentences imposed on four Nazis in Lithuania for an asserted plot to start an armed uprising in Memel was brought sharply home to the country tonight, when hundreds of howling Germans carried their protest to the very doors of the Lithuanian Legation.

Only stout police resistance kept the demonstrators from shouting to Adolf Hitler to "Give it to them in the neck," "Bring Memel home," and "Give us the murderers" from the Legation itself.

NO DAMAGE DONE

The police barricaded the street with trucks. Later the Legation ironically said, "No damage done."

The mob which marched down the Kurfuerstendamm toward the Lithuanian mission was part of 60,000 Germans who had met to hear Hans Steinhilber, leader of the Association for German Nationality Abroad, condemn the Lithuanian court's verdict as "coercion of justice."

Hundreds of other Germans rallied to meetings held elsewhere throughout the nation to cry out against the "Shame! Shame!" and "Demand justice," and the like.

FACTORY DESTROYED AT PRINCE ALBERT

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., March 27 (CP).—Damage estimated at $20,000 was caused tonight when fire destroyed the factory and equipment of the Prince Albert Box Factory Co., Ltd. Sparks from the plant's chimney were believed to have ignited the roof. A wind of blizzard strength was blowing at the time.

ASKING OTTAWA TO DISAPPROVE

Mass Meeting at Vancouver
Seeks to Prevent Fraser Bridge Construction

VANCOUVER, March 27 (CP).—A meeting of 1,200 people in the Hotel Vancouver tonight passed a resolution requesting Prime Minister Bennett, the Minister of Marine and Fisheries and the Minister of Public Works to withhold their consent to the construction of the proposed bridge across the Fraser River at New Westminster.

The resolution also asked that the New Westminster Harbor Board be appealed to, and requested to use its influence with the Federal Government to withhold consent for the construction of the bridge.

The meeting was called jointly by Dr. Lytle Telford and Paul McD. Kerr.

Chairman Thomas Wilkinson said passage of the Bridge Bill had caused more discord, distrust and bitterness than any other act in the history of British Columbia. The Pattullo Government had been weighed in the balance and found wanting.

Mr. Kerr said he felt sure that as soon as the toll bridge was constructed at New Westminster, a similar structure would be built at Ladner.

TORONTO, March 27 (CP).—Magistrate Robert Browne asked a woman charged with being drunk today how old she was. "Eighty," she replied. She was remanded for sentence.

STEMMING another last-minute drive by the famous "Thunderbirds" from the University of British Columbia, in one of the most thrilling finishes in local basketball history, Victoria Blue Ribbons sent the Point Grey students down to a 37-36 defeat in the fifth and final game of the British Columbia's men's senior "A" series, last night, at the High School gymnasium.

It was anybody's game during those last few frenzied seconds when the packed gymnasium was on its toes howling for a Victoria victory, despite Varsity's great garrison finish, which left them a single point from sending the tussle into extra minutes.

Leeming Presents Petition For Relief From Relief Costs

OTTAWA, March 27 (CP).—Mayor G. G. McGeer, of Vancouver, warned members of the House of Commons tonight he would organize riots and throw into the bay any sheriff placed in charge of the city by bondholders. Seventy mayors from all parts of Canada appeared before members of the House of Commons to emphasize their claim that the time had come for the Dominion to take over direct relief costs. The alternative, they said, was bankruptcy of the cities and towns of Canada.

About 100 members of the House of Commons met the mayors in the railway committee room.

MAYOR LEEMING SPEAKS

Mayor David Leeming, of Victoria, was the first speaker on relief problems. He read a resolution, passed Tuesday at the mayors' conference in Montreal, urging that the Dominion assume full cost of unemployment relief after April 1. The resolution claimed unemployment was a national responsibility. Some municipalities had been pushed to the edge of bankruptcy trying to shoulder the load and could not continue.

Turning to Victoria's problems, Mayor Leeming said that up to 1930 it had balanced its budgets for years and was paying off the debt by $400,000 or $450,000 a year. In 1934, the budget "went haywire" by $726,000, just about half the relief levy. In addition, assessments went down $3,000,000 and tax arrears shot up 200 per cent.

NONSENSICAL PROPOSITION

"The burden of unemployment is being placed on the working man who is out of work—a most nonsensical proposition," he declared.

Victoria and other cities, Mayor Leeming said, were approaching the point where taxes exceeded revenue possibilities of property, and property was reverting fast to the city. Property was being abandoned because the owners could not carry it. In addition, the Province was adding social service burdens to the cities, Mayor Leeming said. "We

DEATH REMOVES MISS J. TOLMIE

Sister of Former Premier Passes Away at Her Home
On Richmond Road

Miss Jane Work Tolmie, a member of a distinguished family, passed away late last night at her residence, "Cloverbrae," 1618 Richmond Road.

Miss Tolmie was the second daughter of the late Dr. William Fraser Tolmie, pioneer medical practitioner, scientist and legislator; granddaughter of Hon. John Work, early explorer, fur trade factor and member of the Vancouver Island Council; and sister of Hon. Simon Fraser Tolmie, lately premier of British Columbia.

She was born at Cloverdale, Saanich, in the old colonial days, and witnessed the development of Victoria from small beginnings. Retiring in disposition, she was well beloved by all privileged with her acquaintance, for her many kindly acts and good deeds.

Remaining of her immediate family to mourn their loss are one sister, Miss Josette C. Tolmie, and two brothers, Hon. E. F. and H. W. Tolmie, as well as several nephews and nieces.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

STEAL JEWELRY WORTH $40,000

Bandit Gang Wipes Out Business of Tulsa Man in Spectacular Raid

TULSA, Okla., March 27 (AP).—Spurred by the $40,000 daylight robbery of Ben Goldberger's Jewelry Store today, squads of police tonight were searching environs of Tulsa, with definite suspects in mind.

Three bandits bound and gagged five men, rifled the shop of diamonds, watches, rings, old gold, stocks, bonds and currency and escaped in a sedan bearing a Kansas license plate before the alarm had reached police headquarters.

The robbery, which completely wiped out Goldberger, who had been in business here for eighteen years, was described by police as the most spectacular raid in Tulsa in that length of time.

Says Merger of Railways Would Be Real Menace

Amalgamation Seen as Threat to Political and Economic Life of Canada—Manion Attacks Liberals and Defends Budget—Says Election Will Be Within Six Months

OTTAWA, March 27 (CP).—Amalgamation of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways would be "a menace to the political and economic life of Canada," Hon. R. J. Manion told the House of Commons today, repudiating railway merger as a Government policy.

The Minister of Railways continued the budget debate in a two-hour speech in which he berated the Liberals for "practising political sabotage against their country" and defied them to propound definite policies on the leading questions of the day. He defended the Government's record as "five years of progress and reform such as Canada has never had in its history."

WITHIN SIX MONTHS

Dr. Manion made only passing references to the challenge from the Liberals yesterday to an immediate election. Polling day, he said, would be within six months and he predicted return of the Bennett Government with a bigger majority than in 1930.

The Minister of Railways was the only speaker today, debate being adjourned at 6 o'clock by J. S. Woods, C.C.F. leader. "It was believed that at least one more Government member would speak, and although Liberals seem determined to end debate, there were no indications when the vote would come."

WHISPERING CAMPAIGN

Dr. Manion claimed "a whispering campaign of the most vicious type" had been launched against the Government which was being painted as unfavorable to the Canadian National Railways and as pro-amalgamation. It was untrue, he exclaimed, amalgamation had been given no thought by the Government.

With trade revival—which he believed was inevitable and already apparent—Canada's railway problem would disappear. When the C.N.R. returned to gross revenue of $250, 000,000 a year, it would approach its obligations or come so close that the people of Canada would not protest the yearly assessment for deficits.

AIDED BY LIBERALS

The minister accused the Liberals of helping to create "this railway mess" by improvident spending in 1929 and 1930, either direct or forced on the Canadian National—$200,000,000 to $250,000,000 for hotels, terminals, branch lines and ships. "But we," he added, referring to the Government, "cleaned up that mess."

There could be no doubt that Canada was emerging from the depression, the Minister of Railways said. Canada's total trade increased $300,000,000 in the last two years, but the Liberals were not joyful or pleased—"the only thing they are thinking of is politics and to belittle their country."

The Rhodes budget, he claimed, was a poor man's budget, featured by "fearless, yet fair application of taxes on those best able to pay them."

Every tariff change in the budget was based on a report of the tariff board, Dr. Manion said, but the Minister of Finance corrected him to make it every tariff increase. Toy construction sets, about which Colonel Ralston made such ado, had been changed at the request of the United Kingdom Government. He failed to mention important items like aircraft and locomotives.

CORRECTS MR. RALSTON

Dr. Manion accused Mr. Ralston of seeking to make Canada's debt $115,000,000 greater than it was. This $115,000,000 was a bookkeeping entry and consisted of securities transferred to the Bank of Canada to set it in operation.

The Government, Dr. Manion said, had increased Empire trade through the Ottawa Conference agreements. He mentioned specifically cattle and lumber as two products in which trade had increased in the last two years.

Dr. Manion said the Canadian people at the next election must ask themselves this question: "Is it advisable that party should be in power who by vote opposed and by speech derided the Ottawa agreements?"

LISTS ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Among the accomplishments of the Government, Dr. Manion mentioned the following: $175,000,000 spent on relief; 300,000 persons cared for in the drought areas of the West; the credit of Canada, the provinces and the railways had been preserved; Empire trade agreements had been signed and treaties with France, Poland and Brazil; wheat prices were stabilized; a central bank was established; marketing legislation passed; the Farmers' Creditors' Arrangement Act passed; amendments made to the Farm Loan Act; interest rates lowered; a travel bureau established; unemployment insurance established; eight-hour day legislation passed; an economic council set up.

LONDON (CP).—Anticipating abnormal crowds in Jubilee Week, opening May 6, about 250 tea shop managers held a series of meetings here, to discuss ways and means.

Japan's Resignation From League Raises Delicate Question

Withdrawal Now in Effect Leaving Sovereignty Over Mandated Territories an Issue Among Geneva Experts—Problem May Be Discussed

GENEVA, March 27 (AP).—Japan's resignation from the League of Nations, which will take effect at midnight, raised doubts today as to who ultimately controls the Pacific Islands seized from Germany and turned over to Japan under a League mandate.

AIR PROTESTS AT ESQUIMALT

Ratepayers' Association Hears General Grievances—No Action Taken

There was a general airing of grievances last night at the monthly session of the Esquimalt Ratepayers' Association, but no formal resolutions of protest of council actions were passed. The association decided that its annual meeting would be held on April 17. There were seventy-seven members present.

Bishop George E. Lloyd, president, spoke at length at the outset of the meeting and termed the incidents of Monday's council meeting as "outrageous." At the meeting about thirty-five persons were ordered out of the Municipal Hall by police at the conclusion of the session.

Councillor Harry Hodgson, who was requested to stop addressing the crowd at the Monday meeting after adjournment, said that press reports were misleading. However, he did not explain how they were misleading. He defended his recent action in asking dismissal of the municipal engineer and relief officer as being purely an economical move. The councillor said he did not have spite against anyone at the Municipal Hall.

SCHEME REVIEWED

"However, anything that Councillor Eaton and myself propose is downed anyway," he continued. Councillor Hodgson also outlined his refunding scheme, which was being investigated by the council.

Councillor F. G. Eaton, also a Ratepayers' Association representative, gave a detailed account of a camera session of the council at which estimates were considered. The meeting heard Bishop Lloyd speak at length on the manner in which his request to present, verbally and in writing, a petition to the school board and the council had been received. He protested against camera meetings of the council, and his statements were supported by Councillor Eaton.

Gazing at Eclipse Causes Blindness

CALGARY, March 27 (CP).—A number of Calgarians have reason to remember the last eclipse of the sun, February 3. They've gone blind as a result.

Gazing at the sun's eclipse without the aid of the usual "smoked" glass, according to local sight specialists, had caused partial or total blindness. One practitioner has five patients whom he is treating for loss of eyesight directly attributed to the harmful rays of the sun.

WINDSTORM IS DAMAGING

CORINTH, Miss., March 27 (AP).—A windstorm, sweeping from Kentucky through Tennessee and into Northwest Mississippi, put out electric power lines and unroofed approximately 200 buildings here late today.

A safe and unexcelled relief for headaches, neuralgia and rheumatic pains.

TWO HIDE AWAY ON WRONG SHIP

Arrive in England Instead of New York—Now Held in Halifax Jail

HALIFAX, March 27 (CP).—Two adventurous wanderers who set out three weeks ago to see the bright lights of Broadway were no nearer New York today although they had traveled something like 6,000 miles.

John L. Wallace, thirty-six, of New Ireland, N.B., and Ralph Taylor, nineteen, of Lethbridge, Alta., one night early in March, decided to see New York, and stowed away on the liner Aurania just before she sailed. On the third day they became worried. They had a few cigarettes, but no matches.

TAKEN BEFORE CAPTAIN

Taking a chance, they ventured forth and asked a mess boy for a match. A steward saw the stowaways and marched them up to the captain.

The first question seemed rather silly, they thought.

"Where do you think you are going?" asked the master.

"To New York," the pair replied together.

"Funny way to go about it, for you're on the liner Aurania, three days out of Halifax, bound for England."

On the other side they were turned over to police and returned to Halifax. Today they were in the police station here on charges of stowing away on a liner.

ISSUE MAY BE RAISED

It is always possible, however, that the problem may be raised at a session of the mandates commission for a meeting of the council of assembly.

Dr. Chi-Tsai Hoo, Chinese Minister to Switzerland, called attention today to the fact that the League covenant prohibits any member from withdrawing, unless its obligations under the covenant are fulfilled.

In the case of Japan, Dr. Hoo intimated, this provision of the covenant was not being observed.

ing the past Winter than it did in the preceding one, and he was looking for equally as good increases in westbound traffic during the coming season. In this movement Puget Sound and the Southwestern British Columbia Coast country would be sure to participate.

DELIGHTED WITH CITY

Mr. Kenney stated that he and Mrs. Kenney were both greatly enamored of Victoria. "It is so different from anything in either the United States or Canada, we just cannot resist it when we have the opportunity to get away for two weeks or more. We are going to enjoy our stay here, I know, taking in your scenery and relaxing in the most restful hotel I know of," he concluded.

The president of the Great Northern was born in Wisconsin in 1870, and he began his railroad career as a telegrapher with the C.C.W. Railway in 1888, and has progressed through all grades of railroading with various companies. He became president of the Great Northern in January, 1932. His headquarters are in St. Paul.

SIR PHILIP GIBBS UNDER NAZI BAN

LONDON, March 27 (AP).—Sir Philip Gibbs, noted British writer, expressed surprise today at a report he had been denied admittance to Germany during his journeys in Europe.

"I have not been on the Continent since last Autumn," Sir Philip said at his home here, "and I am contemplating no visit to Germany for some time."

"If I am banned, I haven't heard about it from Germany."

BERLIN, March 27 (AP).—The German Ministry of the Interior today declined to admit Sir Philip Gibbs, noted English writer, into Germany. It was said the writer had incurred Nazi disfavor by his publications.

DROP CHARGES IN MOST CASES

Action Continues Against Nine Accused of Liquor Smuggling Conspiracy

MONTREAL, March 27 (CP).—The prosecution in the $5,000,000 liquor smuggling case now in preliminary hearing before Judge Jules Desmarais has decided to drop charges against all but nine of the sixty-two persons originally accused, it was announced in court today by James Crankshaw, special Crown prosecutor.

Most of accused were from the Maritime Provinces. Mr. Crankshaw said other charges on the indictment will be heard in courts of the provinces of the accused.

Meanwhile, the preliminary hearing of charges against Sam, Harry, Abe and Allan Bronfman, Montreal distillers; Barney Aron, David Costley, F. S. Blair, of Montreal; and William Yule and Mrs. Evelyn Carline, both of Halifax, proceeded.

One Westerner, F. A. Lindsay, of Victoria, was one of the original sixty-two named in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police blanket warrant. Mr. Crankshaw asked for committal of the nine named and argument on this point was put over to Monday.

COURTENAY MAN MAY WIN FORTUNE

Logger Offered Two Thousand Five Hundred Dollars for Quarter Share in Sweepstake Ticket

COURTENAY, B.C., March 27 (CP).—Oscar Olsen, British Columbia logger, reported today he had received an offer from a New York combine of $2,500 for a quarter share in his Irish Free State hospitals sweepstake ticket on Brave Cry, a starter in the Grand National Steeplechase, to be run on Friday.

He stated he had not yet decided whether to sell.

Olsen's ticket, No. PH 04,601, was purchased under the name of "Fanny Face." It was sold to him by Brady Brown, an Irishman and uncle of Tom Cullinan, winner of the 1930 Grand National on Shaun Golin.

BURY WORKER OF MIRACLES

Young Ontario Country Girl Acclaimed Saint—Doctor Remains Skeptical

ST. JOSEPH-D'ORLEANS, Ont., March 27 (CP).—Marie Anne Gravelle, a nineteen-year-old country girl, was buried today in the little Roman Catholic cemetery at this village while hundreds of persons acclaimed her as a saint and a worker of miracles.

The girl's body, wasted by tuberculosis, was carried from her little weather-beaten clapboard home, twelve miles from Ottawa, and placed at the head of a cortege more than a mile long, containing persons who claimed to have benefited from her supernatural cures. Two persons, one a boy, said they had received cures as late as this morning.

HUNDREDS FILE THROUGH

As a crowd outside the humble, unpainted shack chanted prayers, several hundred persons filed through the room in which Marie Anne's body had lain since her death last Sunday.

Most excited was Andre Paquette, twenty-seven-year-old Aymer, Que., resident, who waved his left arm in the air and doubled his fist. He said he had been paralyzed for five years and had been unable to raise the arm until today. A twelve-year-old boy, George Gravelle, of Eastview, cousin of the dead girl, left his crutches in her room this morning.

Young Gravelle, afflicted with a shrunken left leg, demonstrated his ability to walk without aid, but he was very lame.

PHYSICIAN NO BELIEVER

Hundreds praised the piety of Marie Anne's life; said she was a saint and had been given power to perform miracles, but Dr. J. S. Major, her physician, said no miracle had been performed. The doctor attended the girl in her dying days, signed her death certificate and remained unimpressed by claims of relatives and others that she possessed divinely-acquired powers.

"She was a very good girl," he said, "but, if she thought she could perform miracles, the idea was put in her head by somebody else. She did not think of it herself. Until I see proof, there is no miracle, as far as I am concerned—and there has been no proof."

CHURCH IS CROWDED

St. Joseph d'Orleans Church was crowded an hour before the funeral processions arrived. Most of the houses in the village were deserted as residents flocked to the service. Some pilgrims arrived during the night from points as far away as Montreal and Toronto.

Rev. Father Rene Morin, St. Joseph's parish priest, chanted solemn Requiem High Mass, assisted by Rev. Father J. A. Laflamme, parish priest at Sarsfield, near here, and Father Barnabe, of the Holy Ghost Fathers of Ironsides, Que.

DANIELL AND DAWLEY GO TO PENITENTIARY

Former Sentenced to Five Years and Latter to Four Years

MRS. CAMPBELL GIVEN SUSPENDED SENTENCE

Kenneth H. Daniell and Clifford Dawley, found guilty in trials at the Criminal Assizes here, were given penitentiary terms when Mr. Justice H. B. Robertson imposed sentences at the courthouse yesterday morning. Mrs. Arda Campbell, also convicted, was given suspended sentence.

Daniell, who was found guilty on three counts of a morality charge, was sent to prison for five years, while Dawley, convicted of having broken and entered the Dominion Theatre and the candy store of William Rogers on Yates Street, was sentenced to four years on each charge, the terms to run concurrently.

Mrs. Campbell, who was found guilty of having wilfully broken the windows of the city relief office, was granted suspended sentence with the requirement that she give an undertaking on her own recognizance, to cover a period of two years, with a surety to the amount of $500, that she will keep the peace. She will be required, for the next six months, to report on the twenty-seventh day of each month to the chief of police.

IS APPRECIATIVE

When asked by the court if she had anything to say why sentence should not be passed upon her, Mrs. Campbell proceeded to express appreciation of the way in which the court had treated her. She regretted, she said, that the crime had to be committed to attract attention to conditions. She asked that all fair-minded people should do all in their power to bring about an investigation into the relief administration. She thanked the press for its fairness and friends for assistance.

His Lordship called the attention of the prisoner to the fact that he was not asking for this. He was simply asking if she had anything to say why sentence should not be passed upon her.

"I have nothing to say. I am ready to pay the price I owe," came the reply of Mrs. Campbell.

PLEA FOR MERCY

M. B. Jackson, K.C., for the Attorney-General, said that the recommendation made for mercy

Egg War Follows Soon After Milk War at Hamilton

HAMILTON, March 27 (CP).—Hardly through with a milk war, Hamilton today was in the midst of an egg war. Trouble started on the central market when a dealer sold several hundred dozen at one to two cents below prevailing levels. Farmers banded together in an attempt to stop the war by cutting their prices. Eggs at 10 cents a dozen is the prediction.

by the jury had been considered by the Attorney-General's Department, and if His Lordship was prepared to act on it, this would be agreeable to the department. Mr. Jackson, however, pointed out that there had been substantial damage done by the accused.

The Attorney-General, however, considered that, under all the circumstances, the section allowing the exercise of suspended sentence might be invoked.

Mr. Justice Robertson pointed out to the accused that a sentence of three years might have been imposed. He informed Mrs. Campbell that she had absolutely no right to do what she had done. He, however, was convinced that there was no criminal intent on her part. She was suffering under severe conditions, and what she did was probably done to draw attention to the relief department. His Lordship added that he saw no reason for an attack on the relief department, however.

Taking into consideration the recommendation of the jury and the representations of the Attorney-General's Department, he allowed suspended sentence upon the conditions enumerated.

HAD BAD RECORD

Clifford Dawley, on the two charges of breaking and entering on which he was convicted, had his past record presented by the Crown counsel, Mr. Jackson, which showed that since 1926 he had been playing a part in police circles. Sometimes he was acquitted of the crimes and on other occasions had served time. He was arrested not only in Victoria, but in Edmonton, North Bay (where he was charged with highway robbery), and Penitentiary (where he was sentenced to fifteen months in 1930, when he also escaped from jail).

He was sought by the San Francisco police, and had a very long list of serious offences against him in Victoria.

LIFE OF CRIME

"You, Dawley, evidently have made up your mind to lead a life of crime," said His Lordship. "As late as 1932 you were sentenced to three years for housebreaking. I find," added the court.

He thereupon assigned him four years in the penitentiary, following it up with a similar term for a second charge of breaking and entering, the terms to run concurrently.

Dawley asked if the time he had already spent in jail might be allowed to count, and the court so allowed.

When K. H. Daniell was asked if he had anything to say, his reply came promptly, "Nothing to say." His Lordship said that he agreed with the verdict of the jury, and thereupon sentenced him to five years in the penitentiary.

ANNIVERSARY TO BE CELEBRATED

Reunion of Veterans of Riel Rebellion of 1885 Will Be Held Tonight

The dinner to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the Riel Rebellion, under the auspices of the British Columbia Veterans Association, will be held tonight at Spencer's dining room, promises to be one of the most interesting events of the year. It is unique that after fifty years so many actual participants are still alive to meet and give their personal experiences of those stirring days.

Some forty veterans who served in those units throughout Canada, not only from the West, but from Toronto, Montreal, Quebec and Halifax, will exchange reminiscences of the hardships and dangers in putting down the rebellion started by Riel and his half-breeds.

MAIN ADDRESS

The main address at tonight's meeting will be given by Colonel J. S. Dennis, C.M.G., who commanded the Dennis Scouts, and will be an interesting personal history of the campaign.

Other veterans present will recall memories of their past fighting days and the different engagements in which they were engaged, culminating with the capture of Batoche, the rebels' stronghold, by the troops under command of General Middleton.

The dinner will take place at 6:30 o'clock, entrance by Broad Street door of Spencer's, and is open to all veterans and those interested in hearing of this interesting history of Canada. Dress will be strictly informal, and a musical programme will be provided.

TAXPAYERS ARE REORGANIZED

Fred J. Crowhurst Is Chosen President—Other Officers Are Named

Amendments to the Municipal Act to take away the right of municipalities to confiscate or sell a person's home for taxes; reduction in all assessments in Victoria, and the merging of the municipalities of Oak Bay, Saanich, Esquimalt and Victoria under one civic administration, were the major issues considered as the basis of the 1935 programme of the reorganized Victoria Ratepayers' Association at a meeting of that body in the S.O.E. hall last night.

The meeting of the association members was really the adjourned annual meeting and was called mainly for the election of officers and resulted in the selection of Fred J. Crowhurst as the new president to succeed Frank Le Roy, who retired at the close of the year's business, but consented to continue in office until a new slate was chosen.

OTHER OFFICIALS

J. S. Smart was elected first vice-president; J. Howard Chapman, second vice-president, and Arthur Hinder, secretary-treasurer. The selection of an executive committee of fifteen was not completed. The association sent on record as opposed to the proposed day-light saving scheme.

Under the planned reorganization it was suggested that sectional groups be set up in the various districts to be self-governing, but responsible to the parent association. It was also suggested that a definite programme be drawn up by the executive committee and the programme strictly adhered to throughout the year, the main item to be relief from taxation and the proposal to eliminate tax sales in municipalities.

MATTHEW HUTCHISON HONORED WITH GIFT

Meeting in the hall, over the B.C. Electric Company's showrooms on Douglas Street last evening, the members of the Victoria Electrical Contractors' Association presented Matthew Hutchison, retiring city electrician, with a combination reading and smoker's lamp.

The presentation was made by S. J. Halls, who referred to the splendid work Mr. Hutchison had contributed electrically since coming to Victoria, while he voiced the wishes of all present in hoping his retirement would be spent enjoyably.

In accepting the lamp, Mr. Hutchison thanked the donors and recounted some of the experiences he encountered in the early days here.

TRADE UNION ACT FOR B.C. FAVORED

E. E. Bakewell, M.P.P., Tells C.C.F. Meeting of Advantages to Workers and Employers

Workers and employers would both benefit from a trade union act in British Columbia, in the opinion of E. E. Bakewell, M.P.P., for MacKenzie, who spoke to a small gathering, last night, in the C.C.F. headquarters.

Many of the largest and most successful manufacturing plants in England, the speaker declared, favored and maintained all union workers on one hand helped the workers to obtain for themselves a livable wage, while on the other hand organization under unions enabled employers to discipline workers when necessary, it was pointed out.

Mr. Bakewell showed the NRA was enforced in the United States only after all workers were organized into unions. He spoke of progress made under unionist control in Australia. In conclusion, the speaker declared he believed a trade union act, such as recently introduced into the Provincial Legislature and rejected by the Government, was necessary for the general welfare of employers and employees in British Columbia.

GIVE STUDY TO PETITION

Request of Western Australia Raises Far-Reaching Constitutional Issue

LONDON, March 27 (CP).—Parliament today faced a far-reaching constitutional issue over the State of Western Australia's petition to secede from the Australian Commonwealth. The State wants to withdraw and resume its former position as a self-governing unit within the British Empire.

The petition she has presented to the British Parliament was referred to a joint select committee of both sides. Today the committee opened sittings under the chairmanship of Lord Goschen, a former acting viceroy of India.

CONSTITUTIONAL POINT

The question before the committee is not one of merit of the petition, which followed a plebiscite in the state, but the constitutional point whether the British Parliament can receive the petition itself.

J. H. Morgan, K.C., with Paul Springman, appeared for the Parliament and people of Western Australia. Wilfred Greene, K.C., and John Foster appeared for the Commonwealth, opposing the petition.

WILL INVESTIGATE DOCKING OF SHIPS

Inquiring Into Repairing of Canadian Government Vessels in United States

OTTAWA, March 27 (CP).—The Dominion has ordered an investigation to determine why two ships of the Government Merchant Marine fleet are being repaired in United States drydocks, Minister of Railways R. J. Manion announced today in the House of Commons. At the same time orders were issued that all ships in the future must be dry-docked in Canada, he said.

The two ships are the Canadian Highlander and the Canadian Britisher. The minister announced a few days ago that it was impossible to obtain drydocks at Halifax and Saint John at appropriate days and the ships went to New York.

The railway minister said today his earlier announcement, based on information received from C.P. Fulton, of the C.N.R., was inaccurate in part. To clear the air an investigation of the whole thing had been ordered, he said.

CONVERSATIONS AT BERLIN

There is no nation, no combination of nations, prepared to employ force to prevent Germany from rearming. The recent conversations between Sir John Simon, Mr. Anthony Eden and the head of the German Government have proved inconclusive, although conducted in the most friendly spirit. They split on the rock of Germany's practical evidence that she intends to ignore the provisions of the Treaty of Versailles. Apparently much of the discussion was centered on this feature of recent German policies, and, perhaps, too little on what Germany will be prepared to do, if her rearmament is taken for granted, as an active aid in the preservation of the peace of Europe.

The presumption is that Germany was invited by Sir John Simon to rejoin the League of Nations. That League is a corollary of the Treaty of Versailles, and it was with the express intention of violating the provisions of the latter that Germany cancelled her membership in the former, or gave the necessary notice of cancellation. To invite her to rejoin when she is engaged in tearing up the pact which brought official peace at the end of the Great War seems a contradiction in terms. In any case, under existing conditions, and until there is a new recognition by the Powers of Germany's place in world hegemony, it is doubtful if she will rejoin the League of Nations. In the meantime she has adopted compulsory military service; is embarking on the rebuilding of her navy, and intends to strengthen her air defenses until they are equal to those of any Power from which she may fear aggression.

The question of the return of Germany's former colonies which she lost in the Great War was not discussed at the Berlin conversations. That is a question which can bide its time, but one that will eventually be considered as coming within the realm of practical politics for the Nazi regime. The point at the moment is that there is, at least in Great Britain, tacit acknowledgement of Germany's right to increase her military forces. As to the extent to which these may be increased there is unlikely to be any international sanction, but it would appear that the country is to be her own dictator in this respect, inasmuch as she has established a scheme of compulsory military service. The object of the Berlin conversations was to devise ways and means, with German co-operation, to preserve European peace. Ever if the conversations have failed altogether, there is no reason why methods cannot be formulated to attain the desired end. First, however, the Treaty of Versailles, or at least its major provisions, must be abrogated by mutual consent of the signatories. To allow Germany to tear it up without the sanction of the other Powers creates a definitely bad precedent affecting any new treaties that may be devised for the purposes of security.

INFLUENZA

Influenza in many countries during the past few months has been engaged in its cyclic "mopping up" process and, although that devastating disease has now been recurring, within knowledge, for 2,500 years, the remedy is still far to seek. It comes in greater or lesser vintage in its inevitable cycles and the medical faculty is still at an utter loss as to what to do to meet its streptococcal strategy. There are vain counsels and different counsels; new remedies and reapplication of the old ones. What the doctors have learned through the process of events is ability to prophesy when the invader must be faced; they cannot prescribe against his coming.

All experience in the treatment of the disease would seem to go to show that the prophylactics of our forefathers are as good as any of the later school, and probably a great deal pleasanter. All the drowsy syrups of modern concoction or the tablets that never harm the heart do not enable the sufferer to face the world any better in bed-room slippers than did the rum and lemon or the mullet claret, with a dusting of cinnamon, which were the specifics chosen by our ancestors to soothe the inroads of that dread enemy formerly known as the common cold, but in a more complex civilization dignified with a name which denotes the difficulty of finding out anything about it, except the fact that it searches out the weakest points in its victims.

TOURIST TRAFFIC

It is doubtful if there will ever be a way devised to estimate aright the value of the tourist trade to a country. Figures in this respect are constantly being published; they are all guesswork. Even as serious an organization as the Dominion Bureau of Statistics has entered into this speculative aspect of figures, and, with due solemnity, announces that tourists in Canada last year spent $131,000,000 and Canadians abroad spent $61,000,000, leaving a favorable balance for the Dominion of $70,000,000. With all its methods of information, the Bureau has no accurate means of knowing how much tourists spent in Canada, and no means at all of estimating what was spent by Canadians who went to other countries.

In contradiction to the figures published by the Bureau of Statistics on the tourist traffic, there is the statement of Dr. Manion in the House of Commons on the same subject. He said that in 1929 the tourist industry was worth $300,000,000 to Canada but that, owing to the depression, it fell to $117,000,000 in 1933. In 1934 the tourist traffic increased by 25 per cent over the previous year. Dr. Manion drew a lesson from his figures, but that lesson is inadequate unless it is possible to show exactly what is the favorable balance left to this country in the tourist trade. In other words, there must be set against what tourists spend here what our own people spend in their travels in other countries.

For instance, Dr. Manion compares tourist returns of an estimated $140,000,000 during 1934 with $131,000,000 derived from the export of wheat; with $82,000,000 on newsprint; with $29,000,000 on nickel, and so on, his design being to show that the tourist industry, relatively speaking, is of the highest importance. The method of the argument is far from perfect and creates some confusion in the mind. There have been absolutely no methods devised to secure in any accurate way a knowledge of the aggregate sum that tourists spend in Canada in any one year. It is all guesswork.

This is pointed out so as to clear up any misconceptions in the public mind. The outstanding fact that remains, however, is that the tourist traffic is an immense asset to the country. Dr. Manion is so enthusiastic about it that he estimates that within five years it ought to be worth some $500,000,000 per annum to Canada. In the Federal estimates for the coming fiscal year there is a sum of $200,000,000 appropriated to promote the tourist business. It will be spent largely in advertising, particularly in the northern half of the United States. To what extent it will benefit British Columbia is not known. This province derives its tourists mainly from the Northwestern States and California, with a sprinkling from the Middle West and eastern parts of Canada.

Dr. Adrian Bell, the director of music of the British Broadcasting Corporation, has designated what he considers the seven finest orchestras in the world. He has just been acting as guest-conductor of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, and he ranks this organization as one of the finest in the world. The others are the Vienna Philharmonic, the Berlin Philharmonic, the Amsterdam Concertgebouw Orchestra, the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra and the B.B.C. Symphony Orchestra. After his visit to the United States, his finding is that American audiences are more appreciative of good music than English audiences, but that the general standard of musical culture in England is higher than in the United States.

In Russia divorce can be obtained in five minutes at an expenditure of $1.25 and it is "absolute" at once. There are 229 divorces for every thousand marriages in that country. In many cases where there is divorce, not by mutual consent, alimony is paid, and it is generally one-third of the ex-husband's income. There is an instance of a man divorced three times who has to pay the whole of his income in alimony and still has his obligation in this way undischarged. When asked by the court how he managed to live, his reply was: "On the money my wife gets from former husbands. She is too fond of me to tell me how many!"

The Irish Free State Citizenship and Nationality Bill now before Dublin's Parliament has raised at least one interesting point in speculation about the nationality of Mr. de Valera himself. He was an American citizen in 1916, and nothing has transpired since to give him citizenship in any other land.

BUILDING ANEW

The careful textbooks measure "Let all who build beware!" The load, the shock, the pressure. Material can bear. So when the faulty girder Lets down the grinding span, The blame of loss or murder Is laid upon the man: Not the stuff—the man.

Veiled and secret Power, Whose paths we search in vain, Be with us in our hour Of overthrow and pain; That we—by which sure token We know Thy ways are true— In spite of being broken— Because of being broken— May rise and build anew. Stand up and build anew. —Rudyard Kipling.

TOUGH OLD TREE

In a parking space opposite the Court House and within the confines of old Fort Victoria grows a fig tree. Several times it has been cut down, in the changing processes of commercialization of the locality, but always it springs up again to overcome its periods of depression. It is said that the tree originally flourished in the garden (within the fort) of Roderick Finlayson, the builder of Victoria. Whether this is true or not, the persistence of the tree in overcoming all attacks upon it is a wonderful inspiration in these times.—B. A. M.

QUAFF THIS ONE

Temperance workers and Canadian distillers, at least, have found a common purpose. Both are protesting at Ottawa against the reduction in the excise tax on liquor as announced by Hon. E. N. Rhodes in his recent budget address. True, their grounds for protest are radically different. The temperance workers fear increased consumption, and the Canadian distillers fear more serious competition. While the consumer is pleased to see them working toward the same end, he wishes neither success if his hopes for lower liquor prices are to be jeopardized.—H. C. M.

ENTER YE OLDE EGGE

Apparently Victoria basketball fans did not like the decisions rendered by the two Vancouver referees during the third and fourth games of the provincial series between Blue Ribbons and University of British Columbia here last week. One irate fan went to the High School gymnasium prepared for action Saturday night, and when one of the fouls called against Victoria appeared very doubtful, he heaved a very doubtful egg from the gallery, just grazing one of the arbiters. Of course the tussle was halted and the mess cleaned up. This sort of action is not required, for the Blue Ribbons can go out there and win ball games, no matter who is handling the whistle. The referees didn't lose that game Friday as most of the fans thought as they shuffled from the gym, although they did not do the locals any good.—J. D.

HOME-BREWING BUNGED

It cost the women of Canada more than a million dollars more last year to "clean up and paint up" than the year previous due to the excise tax on cosmetics and toilet preparations. Old man husband also had a howl. It cost him a trifle over a million more to "roll his own" because of the tax on cigarette papers and tubes. Froth blowers went back to the made-to-order variety of beers, as the Government only collected $27,000 on the fifty cents a pound tax on malt for home-brewing.—R. A. G.

SPOOKS IN NUMBER 47

Victoria's Blue Ribbons have got a pet club superstition. The boys discovered that every time they have changed in Room 47 at the High School they have lost. On the other hand, if they use a room adjacent to the shower-room, they manage to win. Try to get one of the boys to undress in Room 47 on Wednesday night.—W. J. H.

NO SPIKK VELLY GOOD HINGLISH?

When this super-universal language takes hold of the world in general, it'll be kind of home-like to slide up to a husky West African and ask him if he thinks pork will be any higher in Peru, or if the pineapple is any relation to the hedgehog. It will be kind of matey all round, but we'll admit it will be kind of hard to get the Chinese to give up "no savvy"—R. A. G.

WE'RE SNEAKING UP ON HOLLYWOOD

Two or three Victoria boys for a short time seemed in the running to play the part of David Copperfield in the movie with this title now running at one of the local theatres. While they failed, a little girl, Fay Chaldecott, who is very nearly a Victorian, succeeded in being cast for the important role of little Emily, while her small brother, Dennis Chaldecott, takes the part of the little Micawber boy. Fay and Dennis are the children of Lancelot Chaldecott and the grandchildren of Mrs. Chaldecott, both of whom lived here for many years before and after the war, and have a host of friends in the city. Mr. Chaldecott, the father of the two young movie actors, has been associated with the electrical end of movie production in Hollywood for some time.—J. E. M. B.

A WHIFF OF ICE HOCKEY, PERHAPS

Rotarians are usually given credit for wisdom in matters concerning civic betterment. The club sports committee fully believes that an ice arena here would prove a great drawing card for winter visitors and permanent residents. Why couldn't an arena be included in the five-year tourist trade development plan?—G. B.

CIVILIZATION AT STAKE ON PACIFIC

Rev. F. W. McKinnon Says World Danger Here—Japan Factor in Coming Change

"The danger spot in the world today is not in Europe, but on the Pacific, where civilization itself is at stake," declared Rev. F. W. McKinnon, on Tuesday, in an address before the Douglas Social Credit Group in Room 402 Union Building. Captain John Bowen-Coulthurst spoke on "Banks Create Money, but Not Wealth."

"Western civilization has almost lost its prestige in the theatre of world affairs," said Mr. McKinnon. This was especially true of Europe, he contended. Europe had for centuries dominated the thought, mind and prestige of civilization only to forfeit them by her adventure in the Great War.

"In my opinion these inter-European quarrels will not give birth to a major conflict, neither are they sufficiently powerful enough to arrest the trend of history now shaping itself on the Pacific slope," continued Mr. McKinnon.

DOMINATING FACTOR

New potential forces were arising to reshape and rewrite the history of the world, and he asserted that Japan was one of the dominating factors. Japan, he pointed out, had a civilization which antedated Christianity by a thousand years. It also had an army and navy second to none. The Japanese are no longer an easy going, pleasure-seeking race, but a people determined to cultivate their fortune against all adversities," he stated.

"Japan is today knocking at the doors of the world seeking foreign markets and securing them. She is underselling Germany, Great Britain and America, despite the tariff quotas and boycotts raised against her. Japan is able to do this by using her national credit," Mr. McKinnon concluded.

Many Educative Books Are Added To Library List

Since the reorganization of the reference department of the public library a few weeks ago, many reference books for which shelf space was not before available have been catalogued and added to the collection. These books cover a wide range and should add greatly to the efficiency and completeness of the department. Some of the books which have been added are:

"Standard English Braille in Twenty Lessons," by M. S. Loomis, is a practical manual for teaching the Braille system of reading and writing. It is of special value for use without an instructor and is a good reference book for transcribers and for those who know the system.

"British Painting," by Charles Henry Collins Baker, is a comprehensive survey of British painting from early mediaeval times to 1900. The less prominent painters are grouped for discussion according to their subject and technique, while entire chapters are devoted to the masters. The more prominent painters have a brief biographical sketch with titles and estimates of their work. Most of the water-colourists are omitted here, but will be found in Laurence Binyon's "English Water-Colours," a survey from Elizabethan times to 1900, arranged similarly to the Baker book. Both have many fine reproductions, some in color.

"English Pottery and Porcelain," by William Boyer Honey, in a history of English ceramic art which appraises the aesthetic qualities of the distinctive English wares, gives their derivation and some explanation of technique.

PRESENTATION OF OPERAS

"How to Present the Gilbert and Sullivan Operas," by Albert Bayly, is especially useful for amateur groups. For each opera there is given a synopsis of the plot and advice to the producer on costumes, scenery, properties and lighting. Preliminary chapters discuss the selection of operas, orchestration, costumes, scenery, lighting and make-up. Appendices include a glossary of stage terms and names and address of outfitters.

"Atlas of Current Affairs," by James Francis Herbin, contains seventy-four small outline maps showing regions in which current international issues—economic, political and racial—are centred. These are faced by single pages of concise explanatory text. The book constitutes a geographical quick-reference guide to such topics as the "Polish Corridor," "Separatist Movements in Spain," "Oil in Persia," "Jewish Settlements in Palestine," "The Gran Chaco," and "The Indian States."

"American and Canadian Hospitals," edited by J. C. Fifield, is a reference book giving historical, statistical and other information of the United States, her possessions and Canada. It includes both general and specialized hospitals, insane asylums, institutions for feeble-minded and tuberculous sanitariums.

"The Great War," edited by J. E. M. B., is a collection of articles on national associations, at times in hospital work and related fields.

"COSTUME BOOK" BY MRS. NESTFIELD COOKSON, HAS BEEN PRODUCED

"Costume Book," by Mrs. Nestfield Cookson, has been produced by the special intention of settling once and for all the difficulties encountered when period costumes are being worn at pageants, balls and plays.

"Hutchinson's Women's Who's Who," is a concise directory of British women distinguished in art, character, church, civil service, education, law, literature, journalism, medicine, music, parliament, science, social and municipal affairs, theatre and film worlds, sport, etc.

"Twentieth Century Forces in European Fiction," by Agnes Camilla Hansen, is a brief study of the modern novel, with lists of titles in English translations which mirror the concepts, forces and phenomena characteristic of contemporary life.

"Dictionary of Business Terms," by C. M. Alsager, contains definitions of terms, phrases and abbreviations, related to accounting, banking, bonds, brokerage, business law, business organization, corporations, domestic and foreign exchange, economic, insurance, investments, money, mortgages, real estate, speculation, stock-exchange operations, stocks, trusts and other branches of business.

"Medical Register" is comprised of the names and addresses of medical practitioners under the Medical Acts of 1858 and 1886 and in the Colonial List under the Medical Act of 1886 and in the Foreign List under the Medical Act of 1886.

WHO'S WHO IN BURNS

"Burns' Handbook," by John Dawson Ross, is a popular dictionary of allusions, names, etc., either referred to in the poems or having some connection with the poet's life and works. It is a companion to the same author's "Who's Who in Burns," and has a map of the Burns country in the end papers.

"Directory of Foreign Missions," edited by Esther Boorman Strong and A. L. Warne, gives information concerning missions and missionary boards, the societies and colleges and co-operative councils connected with mission and other agencies of the Protestant churches of the world.

"Budgets in Governments of Today," by A. E. Buck, is a study of the budgets of leading Governments, especially the United States. The author discusses the origin, development, and general aspects of budgets, the role of executive and legislative in budgeting, the budget as a final plan, etc.

"Mine Examination and Evaluation," by C. H. Baxter and R. D. Parks, contains much that is old, but much new material which is clearly presented. The material is based largely on an authoritative work which is now out of print.

"Mary Thomas' Dictionary of Embroidery Stitches" describes and illustrates more than 300 stitches. The names of the stitches have been placed in strict alphabetical order, and each stitch will be found under its family name. Every known alternative name to any stitch has therefore been included, while the stitch itself will be found under the name by which it is most popularly known.

"Dictionary of Poultry," by D. F. Suttie, is written from first-hand knowledge by an enthusiast and specialist. It is a comprehensive work of reference which deals in encyclopaedic form with all aspects of the subject—feeding of properly-constructed and balanced rations, the selection of stock, hygienic housing, general management and diseases and their control.

THE THUNDER BIRD

Sir—Within the past week you have published two extremely interesting articles.

One was in reference to the unique bowl, which, filled with nuggets, is to be presented to His Majesty King George. The bowl is to be decorated with the Indian symbol of the Thunder Bird. The writer of this article endeavors to give an interpretation of the symbol, together with that of the Killer Whale, regarding both as totems of local tribes and the double symbol of bird and whale, as the record of the conquest of one tribe by the other.

May I suggest that a deeper study of symbolism would reveal the Thunder Bird as a representation, not of some local tribe, but of something far more sublime, that of the cosmic forces. Among several widely diverse peoples the cosmic forces are symbolized by a bird, the process of creation being represented by the hatching of the egg; a symbolism which, one must admit, could hardly be improved upon. The Nootka Indians have this symbol in a three-fold aspect. Above the Thunder Bird is the Crested Serpent, symbol of the Supreme Deity; the Thunder Bird represents the cosmic forces; the Killer Whale, the waters of space.

The second article (issue of March 24) told of the stone carvings found at Nanaimo. The writer speaks of the Heptu stone as being strongly Egyptian in design, while the illustration of the Mitchell stone which accompanies the article, shows typically Egyptian features. The article goes on to say that it seems very likely that Nanaimo had been at one period, the centre of a pre-Indian culture, but suggests, even in the face of the Egyptian design of the stone relief, that this culture was from China.

May I point out that there seems to be no question in the minds of authorities on this subject, but that our Indians of British Columbia are of Mongolian stock and came, as

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

(From The Daily British Colonist of March 28, 1885)

Naval Notes—It is rumored that H.M.S. Swiftsure and Triumph, Ironclads, and H.M.S. Heroine, from the Southern station, and two other cruisers, from the China station, have been commissioned for service at Esquimalt Harbor.

Blooming Trees—The great majority of the fruit trees in the gardens and orchards have burst into blossom, there being a beautiful crop assured if no further interference now to prevent the fruit from ripening. This is rather early, but the fruit trees to bloom, but the favorable weather of the past month has hurried the trees into a new life.

Accident—A mare, while being brought on the C.P.N. Company's wharf, fell between the wharf and the steamer and broke its leg. Mr. Boorman, the driver, upon being informed of the mishap, claimed damages, which were promptly paid by the company. The superintendent of police, on being informed of the nature of the accident, detained Mr. Walker to shoot the horse immediately to put it out of its misery.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

By Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

CAREFUL DEFENCE

On the hand below a slam contract was defeated by a brilliant shift into one of the declarer's suits at trick two by the North player. West, dealer.

Both sides vulnerable.

THE BIDDING

West	North	East	South
2♠	Pass	2NT	Pass
3♠	Pass	3NT	Pass
4♠	Pass	4♠	Pass
5♠	Pass	6♠ (1)	Pass
Pass	Pass	Pass	Pass

1. East has made nothing but minimum responses up to this point. The possession of the king-queen of clubs, three trumps to the ten-nine, and a doubler diamond justifies the acceptance of partner's slam try.

THE PLAY

With North's holding there is no better lead against the slam contract than the club ace. This lead, only would defeat the contract, despite perfect play by the declarer.

When the club ace held, North was faced with a problem. His partner had discarded the deuce on this trick, leaving only the jack and nine outstanding. North figured his partner's deuce was not a singleton, as it was hardly possible for declarer to do so much bidding, holding three clubs to the jack. North, accordingly, had to look for another

Conservative Party Must Hold Position In Provincial Life

Herbert Anscomb, M.P.P., Says Only Alternative C.C.F., Socialism or Communism—J. W. Jones Deals With Reform Plans of Premier Bennett

If party government is to continue in British Columbia, the Conservative party must be revitalized, asserted Herbert Anscomb, M.P.P. for Victoria, before members of Wards Six and Seven Conservative Association in the Campbell Building last evening. "Your only other alternative is the C.C.F., Socialism or Communism," Mr. Anscomb stated. "C.C.F. members have openly admitted that they espouse the Socialistic cause. They are trying to blend Socialism and capitalism with ludicrous results."

In dealing with fifteen of the 105 measures made law at the recent session of the Legislature, the speaker claimed that amendments to the Motor Vehicle Act placed property owners in a position where they had no right to ask for a foreclosure except under the most drastic circumstances. This, he considered, would prevent a free flow of money for construction work into the province. He claimed the apprenticeship bill as many years overdue. "One clause in the Motor Vehicle Act which I strongly supported, said Mr. Anscomb, "was that twenty-four hours should be given a driver to show his driver's licence when asked by a policeman, but the Attorney-General was against it."

Ratepayers Will Oppose Any Move To Issue Bonds

THE Equimault Ratepayers' Association last night decided to inform the Bank of Montreal that it will oppose and will urge all Equimault taxpayers to protest any attempt by the 1935 municipal council to float a debenture issue.

In dealing with amendments to the Municipal Act which give the Government the right to insist upon four statements each year on the state of sinking funds, the speaker claimed that North Vancouver went bankrupt through lack of knowledge of the money market. He regretted that opposition was voiced to the suggestion that all municipal investments should have approval of the Government Finance Department. He also thought that ninety-day call provisions should apply to every city issuing securities. This also was opposed by the Minister of Finance and the Minister of Municipalities.

"Burnaby would be the only municipality in the hands of the receiver if this Government and others had not loaded costs of relief and social services upon them," Mr. Anscomb declared. He regretted that only 16 per cent of the $3,000,000 loan for reconstruction and maintenance of roads would be spent on Island roads, which were its very life blood, and necessary for the tourist trade.

"MUSHROOM COMPANY" In speaking of the proposed Fraser River Bridge, he thought that tenders for the work should at least be called for, instead of the work going to what he termed a "mushroom company" formed by three men.

"Yes, it has been a successful session," Mr. Anscomb cautiously remarked. "We have increased the Provincial debt $10,000,000 that we know of. That cannot go on if this province is to continue its existence under the present economic system. We will either go bankrupt, or become hopelessly mired in taxation," he concluded.

"There are days of political turmoil, stirred up by political agitators," said J. W. Jones, who was Minister of Finance in the Tolmie Government. "You will perhaps remember in 1929 that Mackenzie King remarked: 'Not a five-cent piece to any Tory province in Canada,' but Premier R. B. Bennett has loaned millions of dollars to provinces regardless of political faith."

"When our Conservative Premier took office, $100,000,000 in public debts were falling due. He also had to face declining revenues. England's departure from the gold standard in September, 1931, threw Eastern financial markets into a turmoil, but Premier Bennett struggled to keep Canada from the rocks," he declared.

BRINGS BUSINESS During his regime, 1,500 United States firms located branches in Canada. His Anti-Dumping Act saved the existence of British Columbia and Eastern fruit growers.

The Marketing Act of last year also assisted farmers," he mentioned, in telling of what the Bennett Government had accomplished under great difficulties.

Mr. Jones closed by stating that the present Federal Government planned to deal with unemployment insurance, an eight-hour day for Canadian industries, increased loans to farmers, taxation reform, and reciprocal trade with the United States.

W. H. M. Haldane introduced the speakers. Refreshments brought the evening to a close.

FORESEES GREAT TOURIST SEASON

George I. Warren Returns After Series of Conferences in Pacific Northwest

Filled with enthusiasm regarding the tourist trade this year, George I. Warren, Victoria publicity commissioner, returned to the city yesterday, after having attended thirty-two conferences on tourist travel at key points between here and Montana.

Mr. Warren reported Victoria might well look for a tremendous volume of motor tourist traffic over Highway 10, which opens up a wide sweep of territory west of the Great Lakes through the states of Wisconsin, Minnesota, the Dakotas, Montana, Wyoming, Idaho, Oregon, Washington and Washington. He explained that Highway No. 10, topped Glacier National Park, Waterton Lakes Park, Yellowstone National Park and Rainer National Park.

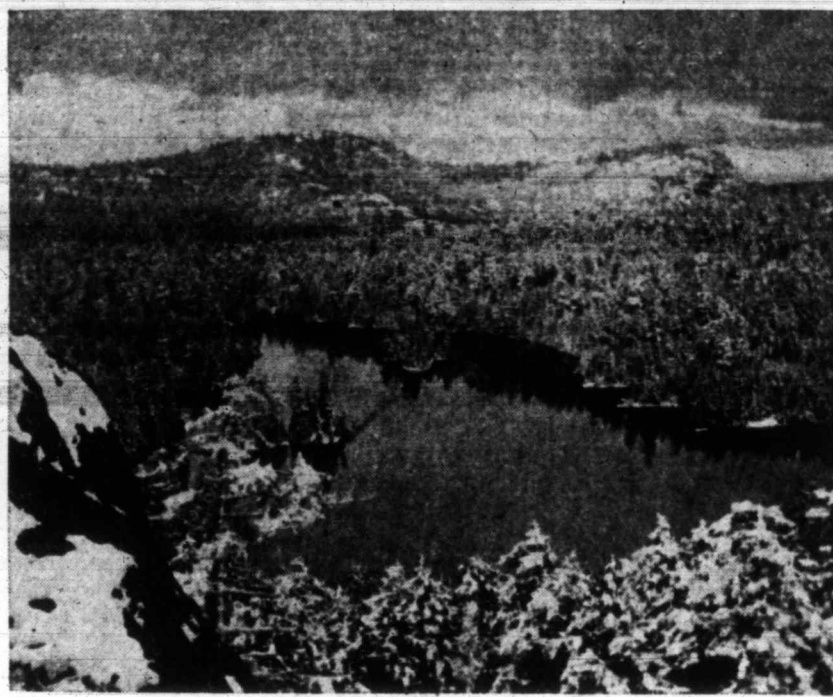

MAYOR LEEMING Mayor David Leeming and Mr. Warren traveled to Butte, Mont., specifically to attend a meeting on March 23 of representatives of Montana, North Dakota, South Dakota, Wyoming, Idaho, Oregon, Washington and British Columbia, called for the purpose of discussing the development of tourist travel and perfecting organization for the co-operative advertising campaign designed to direct travel from the Great Lakes area and the Chicago region to Puget Sound and British Columbia over the new Highway No. 10.

On March 25, Mayor Leeming parted company with Mr. Warren, taking an airplane East to attend the conference of Canada mayors at Montreal.

The golf club's most inveterate grouser was complaining to the secretary. "I'd a couple of lovely approaches ruined by worm-casts today. Don't you ever treat worms on this course?"

"We do," replied the secretary, bitterly. "What'll you have?"

A Lovely Lake Among the Hills

LAKE-OF-THE-SEVEN-HILLS, SOOKE

At the edge of which the Vancouver Island section of the Alpine Club of Canada has its camp, the rendezvous of many happy gatherings, and the starting point of many interesting expeditions into the surrounding hills. This picture was taken a week or two ago from the summit of one of the mountains immediately overlooking the point (right) where the new hut has been erected. It was one of the several beautiful lantern views shown by Claude Harrison at the annual Alpine Club dinner, held last evening at the Empress Hotel.

Paint Prices to Be Lowered for Clean-Up Week

Through the efforts of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, which public-spirited body is sponsoring the "Clean-Up, Repair, Paint-Up Week" campaign, paint companies will offer their products at greatly reduced prices all next week. Supporters of the campaign are urging all Victorians contemplating painting their homes, furniture, fences or garages do so next week, thus taking advantage of the sale prices in paint.

All citizens are requested to follow the suggestions of the campaign committee for four reasons: (1) To promote good health, (2) decrease fire hazards, (3) increase values, and (4) attract investments.

THREATENS TO LEAD RIOTS IN VANCOUVER

Continued from Page 1 can not continue to carry these burdens," he added, referring to social services and unemployment. He believed the same problem applied to Vancouver, New Westminster and other Western cities.

ATTACKS THE SYSTEM Mayor McGeer attacked the financial system of Canada, the banks and bondholders who expected their pound of flesh. He claimed Vancouver did not want to default, but could not pay all interest charges.

Every Canadian municipality, Mayor McGeer said, was facing the alternative of reducing social charges or defaulting interest. "I won't pay interest in Vancouver at the expense of any child or woman," he declared.

Riots would follow if relief was discontinued, the Pacific Coast mayor warned members of the House. Vancouver had been threatened with a sheriff being placed in charge if its bonds were defaulted. "You will have riots from that, too," he warned. "If any sheriff comes into my city, I will organize the riot and lead it to throw him (the sheriff) into the bay."

Mayor Camille Houde, of Montreal, said the conference had never discussed the possibility of riots in Vancouver or threats to members of the House of Commons.

IS NOT THREATENING "We are here to plead and not to threaten," said Mayor Houde. "We come not to take over your responsibilities but to ask you to take over some of ours."

Three conferences of mayors had been held in the last few months, said Mayor Houde, one in London, Ont., one in Calgary, and the latest in Montreal. At all, resolutions were unanimously passed stating the burden of direct relief was too much for the municipalities to bear. There was unanimity of opinion among all mayors.

The mayors had been to the provincial governments and found them unable to give the relief offered. Further, they wanted uniformity in the treatment of the unemployed throughout Canada. For this reason they had come to the Federal Government. "If the Federal power had come to the conclusion that unemployment insurance was a matter for it to deal with, he could see no reason why direct relief should not be treated in the same way."

Mayor McGeer, who has demonstrated to Parliament more than once that he is a master of catch phrases, was at his best. He addressed the members as "fellow legislators in bankruptcy." The Bank of Canada was called "a service station to a number of credit-dealing rackets."

The Vancouverite even conspired the Hawaiian language to describe public budgets. He called them "hoo-mall-mall," meaning an instrument to fool the people.

Mayor McGeer urged that the Dominion take the lead in consolidating and refunding its own debt and that of provinces and municipalities. He believed only if the credit of the nation was used, could public debts be refunded on a fair basis and national bankruptcy be avoided.

The meeting adjourned until tomorrow, when it will reconvene to meet the Cabinet.

CARY GRANT STAR IN BRIGHT STORY

"Enter Madame" Co-Features Elissa Landi—"Marie Galante" Is Added Feature

Continuing the recent trend of sophisticated and humorous roles for Cary Grant, tall, dark and handsome Paramount star, "Enter Madame," which comes today to the Playhouse Theatre, features Grant in a new comedy portrayal opposite Elissa Landi, who plays a temperamental prima donna.

Grant, who plays the husband, tires after a year of more or less conjugal bliss, of sharing his wife's affection with her pet dog, Toto, and her adoring public. So he packs and comes back to the United States, where more substantial affection awaits him.

When Miss Landi learns that her darling husband is suing for divorce, she cancels her tour and hurries after him.

By a carefully managed campaign, she lures him back to her side and away from the woman who is already making inroads into his affection. And when he is safely up-back, the entire rigamarole, opera, concerts, dogs and festivities, begins all over again.

Jay C. Flippen, well-known comedian, has a featured role in "Marie Galante," the added attraction, Fox Film production, which co-stars Spencer Tracy and Ketti Gallian. Flippen has the role that John Foran was to have played, but which he had to give up when he was loaned to Warner Brothers.

FINE STAGE BAND TO APPEAR WITH REVUE

Another really splendid dance and stage orchestra will be heard at the Empire Theatre tomorrow and Saturday, when the revue "Footlight Frolics" is presented. The orchestra has always been a feature of the road shows at the Empire Theatre and the aggregation of musicians coming this week-end promises to be even a little more outstanding than the others.

Jimmie Read will lead his orchestra.

SPECIAL OFFER ON SATIN-GLO

British America Paint Company Announces a Week of Sales for Popular Product

Today, Mr. J. C. Pendray, manager of the British America Paint Co., Ltd., announces his firm's annual Satin-Glo sale will be held during the week of March 29 to April 6. Hundreds of Bapco dealers throughout Western Canada now feature this sale and invite the public to plan their Spring decorating and save substantially on the cost of Satin-Glo interior finishes. "It is almost twenty years ago since the British America Paint Co., Ltd., created the original Satin-Glo in the semi-gloss satin finish for interior painting," says Mr. Pendray. "It was a finish of universal appeal, and the beautiful pastel tints were admirable for the creation of bright, cheerful effects in home decoration. Furthermore, it was a Western Canadian product, one that paint dealers could unhesitatingly recommend because of its splendid quality. To place Satin-Glo in the hands of the public so that householders everywhere in the West could test its qualities, became the demonstration purpose of the first Satin-Glo sale. The success of this sale was so outstanding that it has been continued as an annual event ever since."

Along with the original Satin-Glo Satin Finish, Bapco dealers now offer Satin-Glo High-Gloss Enamel and Satin-Glo Varnish at reduced prices during the week of Satin-Glo sale. With these three Western Canadian products every detail of interior decoration can be done in a completely satisfactory manner.

ira, whose members are known as the "Rhythm Monarchs." Read, in addition to being an orchestra leader of note, has been featured on many radio programmes in the Eastern United States. He is also known as an expert on the silver guitar.

"Vanessa," billed as "La Danseuse Moderne," is one of the featured dancers with "Footlight Frolics." She will be seen in two of her sensational dance creations and musical specialties, which have made her so popular during this company's tour, which already has extended across the continent from New York and up the Coast from Los Angeles.

Two Dramas Now At the Columbia

There is a fragrant, spicy, outdoor flavor to the current RKO Radio farce-comedy, "We're Rich Again," now at the Columbia Theatre, which should have wide appeal, in the opinion of William Seiler, the director.

"In my opinion, the camera is kept indoors too much in most pictures," said Seiler. "Personally, I like to have as many outdoor scenes in a picture as is possible. It is almost as good as taking a trip to the mountains or the beach, to see them on the screen."

"We're Rich Again" is an adaptation of the stage hit, "And Let Who Will Be Glorious." It tells the story of a naive little country girl who unexpectedly arrives at the home of her aristocratic cousins and their giddy polo-playing grandmother at a time when they are busy dodging process servers and preparing for a wedding.

The cast includes Edna May Oliver, Billie Burke, Marion Nixon, Reginald Denny, Joan Marsh, Buster Crabbe, Grant Mitchell and Gloria Shea.

Also on the same bill is "Hidden Gold," a thrilling story starring Tom Mix.

COMEDY TEAM PLAYING IN ROMANO PRODUCTION

Charles Ruggles and Mary Boland, that well-known comedy team, are appearing on the screen of the Romano Theatre today in "Six of a Kind." As the added feature, the Romano is showing Victor McLaglen and Dorothy Dell in "Wharf Angel."

DOMINION A romantic story that is expected to become a classic of English literature is on the screen of the Dominion Theatre this week in "Vanessa: Her Love Story," starring Helen Hayes and Robert Montgomery. It is the story of a great love that defied human laws and the march of time. Adapted from Hugh Walpole's best-selling novel, it is the fourth and last of his saga of books of the spectacular Herries family.

CAPITOL The Metro-Goldwyn-Threatre Mayer Studios, which have given the world some of the finest pictures of all time, score again with "David Copperfield," the all-star photoplay which is the current attraction at the Capitol Theatre. Hailed as the crowning film achievement of many years, "David Copperfield" boasts a cast of sixty-five film favorites. It was adapted from Dickens' best-known and best-loved story, and was produced by David O. Selznick and directed by George Cukor.

David Spencer Choir Helps Fine Service With Entertainment
Victorian Order of Nurses Benefits From Much-Enjoyed Concert Given at Empress Hotel Last Evening—Soloists Prove Popular
THERE is very little ostentation about the David Spencer Choir; therefore, it is a special pleasure to record the fact that it made a most happy impression with its concert given at the Empress Hotel last night in aid of the Victorian Order of Nurses. A big audience was present.
Built up entirely of voices from among employees of the store, the choir numbers thirty-eight when at full strength, and lacked but one member last night. Under the discreet and persuasive direction of Frank Tupman, they did some very nice work. While there was not a great body of tone to draw upon, the conductor has the art of making much of his material, has the voices well arranged, and uses considerable skill in their manipulation. To such details as intonation, phrasing, diction, attack and attention to the beat the most punctilious attention is given, and the artistic touches were continuously apparent in well-realized attempts at shading effects. Especially is the choir to be congratulated on its unaccompanied numbers. These, always a real test of the vocal ensemble's sense of pitch, tempo, rhythm and melodic line, were admirably sung.
THE PROGRAMME
The unaccompanied numbers included the spirited "With Jockey to the Fair" (Gordon Jacob); the charming old Welsh air, "The Ash Grove," arranged by Gordon Jacob for part-singing; and showing a good sense of harmonization; and "Sweet Day" (Vaughan Williams). The second was repeated throughout in response to appreciative applause.
Among the particular favorites elsewhere in the programme were Coningsby Clarke's "Bowl of Roses" and Dudley Buck's "Hymn to Music," both of which had to be sung again, they proved so popular. There was some excellent shading and nice phrasing in the former, and the latter, which is quite an ambitious number, worked up to its climax with an unexpectedly big volume of firm tone. The diction throughout was exemplary.
The choir opened the programme with "Drake's Drum" (Rendall) and Charles Wood's "Awake! Awake!" gaining confidence as they progressed. Other numbers, chosen with good judgment, were Stanford's "Soft, Soft Wind," the beautiful Elgar, "Banner of St. George," where a little unnecessary anxiety was apparent, and Edward German's attractive setting of "Orpheus With His Lute."
THE SOLOISTS
The two soloists were happily selected. Miss Doreen Daniell, contributing vocal groups, and Miss Gwendoline Harper, pianoforte groups. In their respective fields, each is an artist, with individuality, very fine technique and an intelligent attitude toward her work.
Miss Daniell's voice is of very sweet, fresh, happy quality, and she was particularly effective in her first group, "Come, Sweet Morning," an old French folk song arranged by "A.L." which perfectly suited her, and Parry's light-hearted "My Heart Is Like a Singing Bird." For her second group she sang Herbert Howell's "Gavotte," a very charming little thing, which was followed by Quilter's "Fair House of Joy" and Armstrong Gibb's "To One Who Passed Whistling Through the Night."
Haydn's "Fantasy in C" played with captivating clarity and crispness; the appealingly melodious yet difficult Mendelssohn-Liszt "On Wings of Song," which had nice feeling and restraint, and the Paganini-Liszt "Etude in E," interpreted with taste and executed with great skill, were Miss Harper's numbers, with a little Gavotte added as an encore.
Miss Jessie Smith was a skilled accompanist.

Royal Courts Will Be First Events on Jubilee Programme

Debutantes and Matrons Will Make Obeisance to Their Majesties Tonight and Tomorrow — Official Jubilee Courts on June 25 and 26

LONDON, March 27 (AP).—The pageantry of two Royal courts on Thursday and Friday nights will inaugurate colorfully, if unofficially, the Silver Jubilee year. Excited matrons and debutantes will curtsy before the King and Queen at Buckingham Palace in this prelude to the festivities of the King's twenty-fifth anniversary as Britain's ruler.

The official Jubilee Courts will be as they waited in the Mall, in their automobiles, for the gates of the palace to open. Those who were early in line had to undergo the prying eyes of spectators and no few ribald remarks. That has been changed, however, to let the cars come into the large palace quadrangle, those who are in the rear overflowing into the outer forecourt.

First in have first choice of the relatively small number of seats and so all strive to be early. Sharp at 9:30 p.m., the King and Queen enter the Throne Room and the line starts moving past.

CARS IN QUADRANGLE
At one time those attending the Royal Courts were on public display.

A Novelty Tee in the Hawaiian Islands

Miss Helen Condon, of Seattle, winner of the major award for women in the recent annual tournament conducted by the Hawaiian Tourist Bureau over the Waiatae links, Honolulu, is shown teeing off from a pineapple while Miss Kathleen Sheret and her brother, A. W. Sheret, of Victoria, look on. Miss Sheret and Mr. Sheret returned from a Hawaiian vacation on the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Canada, not long ago.

Smart Wedding Takes Place in Nova Scotia

The following account of the marriage, on March 22, in St. Paul's Church, Halifax, will be of interest to friends of the groom, who is a former Victorian.

"Never in all its history has old St. Paul's looked lovelier than it did last evening, when its stately beauty softened and made exquisitely lovely with great masses of green and white, with shaded and cleverly concealed lights casting a soft glow on the bridal party and the hundreds of guests, it witnessed the wedding ceremony of two of the most popular young people ever united in marriage within its walls.

They were Miss Jean MacGregor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. MacGregor, of Thornville, Halifax, and John Rupert Wilson Turner Beasom, of the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps, son of Major and Mrs. Rupert V. C. Beasom, of the Royal Military College, Kingston, Ontario.

OFFICIATING CLERGY
To the stately music of Wagner's Wedding March the members of the bridal party came up the aisle to take their places in the chancel, where were waiting the groom and his attendant, and the officiating clergy, Archdeacon Savary, of St. Paul's; Rev. Dr. J. A. Clark, of St. Matthew's; and Rev. T. R. B. Anderson, of Granville Ferry, Nova Scotia, who assisted at the ceremony.

"The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, made a charming figure, gowned in an original Pompadour creation of satin-backed cloth of silver, made on princess lines with a softly-draped neck. The square train, three yards long, fell in graceful folds from just above the knee and over her veil of net illusion fell a panel of Brussels lace, a family heirloom, held in place by a braided halo of cloth of silver. Her shoes matched her gown, and she carried an arm bouquet of Calla lilies, exquisite in its grace and beauty.

FIVE ATTENDANTS
The bridesmaids were Miss Betty Barnes, of Halifax; Mrs. C. P. Bethune, of Halifax; sister of the bride; Miss Marion Webster, cousin of the bride, and Miss Alma Hart, of Montreal, and Miss Helen Gordon, of Toronto.

Clubs-Societies
L.O.B.A. Meeting
At a recent meeting of Britannia Lodge No. 216 plans were made for a silver tea to be held at the home of Mrs. Leask, 216 Mary Street, today. There will be drill practice tomorrow at 2 p.m.

The Tillamook Athletic Club will hold a dance in the Foresters' Hall this evening from 9 to 1 o'clock. There will be a five-piece orchestra and a sit-down supper.

Probably the senior member of the local division, in point of service, was Rev. C. C. Raven, who joined the R.N.W.M.P. in 1885. After thirty-five years' service, he retired with pension, but proceeded to fit himself for the church, and was ordained in 1925, since when he has held incumbencies in various places about the Province.

ENGAGEMENTS
SMITH-SWANSON
The engagement is announced of Patricia (Pat), only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Swanson, East Wellington, to Mr. Gordon T. Smith, third son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Smith, of Duncan, formerly of Winnipeg. The wedding will take place in May.

First Movie Star—We solemnly change as we grow older, don't we? Second Movie Star—Yes, indeed, I do. I want many men I wouldn't go out dinner with now.

Y.P.S. News

CENTENNIAL
The Centennial Society held its weekly meeting on Tuesday evening in the church parlors. Miss Dorothy Harris, the vice-president, welcomed three new members to the society. The opening exercises were led by Bill Deaville, Bill Young and Miss Flo Murkur. The programme for the evening was under the direction of Miss Eileen Foster, musical convener, who had cleverly arranged a mock radio broadcast with Frank Hollins as the announcer. The items in this broadcast included a humorous reading, "Pigs Is Pigs," by Miss Isabelle MacKenzie; contra solo by Miss Janet Haye; baritone solo, "Thine Is My Heart," by Joe Almond; reading Mark Twain's by Miss Margaret Awnack; violin solo, "Desert Song," by Miss Betty Corliss; and humorous monologue by Bill Young. The entire programme was thoroughly enjoyed by all and proved to be one of the best in many weeks.

FIRST UNITED Y.P.S.

The weekly meeting of First United Young People's Society was held in the Sunday school, with the president, Eifion Jones, in the chair. The devotional part was taken by Misses Margaret James and Lillian Bennett. Miss Margaret James took as her topic, "True Missionary Spirit." A male quartette from Oaklands-Gospel Hall sang two selections. In the absence of the speaker, Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson, Rev. E. F. Church took his place. He spoke of "My Experiences on My First Mission Field." The meeting was brought to a close by Rev. G. Boothroyd, who gave a short talk on "The Christian Commonwealth Youth Movement." Next Monday night there will be a debate, and all young people are invited to attend.

Founding of Chapter Will Be Recalled

The Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter, I.O.D.E., is planning a birthday luncheon, which members and interested friends are asked to patronize, in the private dining-room of the Hudson's Bay Company's store on Friday, April 5, which is the date on which the chapter was formed in 1912.

The programme will include interesting references to the procedure at the organizing meeting, and those who took any part in the meetings of that year will find much to interest them, and it is hoped that such old-time members will patronize the luncheon and bring friends.

1912 EXECUTIVE
The members of the 1912 executive will, with few exceptions, be present, with Mrs. R. B. McKinnis as the first regent of the chapter named Lady Douglas, her illustrious husband's name being added in later years. Members of the Douglas family have ever shown deep interest in the chapter's activities, the flag being the gift of Mrs. Dennis Harris, in memory of her mother, Lady Douglas, the chapter's name "preserving green the memory" of one of the earliest of the courageous band of pioneer women.

The motto chosen with Mrs. McKinnis's usual acumen and good taste was taken from the farewell speech of Earl Grey: "To keep one hand on the traditions of the past and green the memory of our illustrious dead." Among the first acts of the chapter were some of vital importance to the city, and remain today as a token of practical citizenship. The luncheon is open to the public, and will commence at 12:30 p.m. Reservations should be made directly to the dining-room (E7111 exchange) as early as possible to secure accommodation.

Royal Couple Are Welcomed By Thousands

Nassau extended a brilliant greeting to Their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Kent when they arrived there from Jamaica on the continuation of their West Indies honeymoon. They are guests of His Excellency the Governor Sir Bede Clifford and the Hon. Lady Clifford at Government House.

Public buildings and private business houses were gaily decorated with flags and bunting, ships in Nassau Harbor blew their whistles, and airplanes soared overhead in salute to the royal pair. More than 3,000 school children gathered to sing songs and participate in the welcome. Their Royal Highnesses were met by Government officials and motored up Bay Street past the British Colonial to Government House.

PRESENTS BOUQUET

The Hon. Lady Clifford presented a huge bouquet to Princess Marina, who smiled to the cheering crowd, and both she and Prince George waved many times to the throngs which lined the streets as they motored through the business section of Nassau.

Princess Marina and Prince George took the picture of health, and both are well lauded after spending nearly two months in the sunshine of the West Indies. Since their arrival here, the royal couple have been spending much time on the beach, enjoying a swim almost daily, and playing golf at the British Colonial Country Club. They are enjoying the charms of this British colony, which has greatly increased in favor as a winter resort during the past few seasons. Their visit to Nassau has greatly stimulated the social life on the island and many gay parties are being held in their honor.

ENJOY DANCING

They have been seen on several occasions in the grillroom of the British Colonial enjoying the dance.

His subject was the Columbia Coast Mission, and he dealt with the medical work and showed by graphic illustrations the need of this service. He gave an outline of the work among the Indians and the great help gained through the medium of the radio. A report of the council meeting was given by Lenora Trickett. Any member interested in badminton is asked to be at the Memorial Hall gymnasium at 8 o'clock on April 1, when a team will be selected to play a match at Duncan. Suggestions for Good Friday will be received at the next meeting.

Jack Laver, chairman of the play committee, presented a report of the meeting held recently. James White will act as business manager. Florence Malcolm is convener of properties, assisted by Mr. F. Quillie, Jack Vesey, Harold Parrot, and Irving Archer. Lenora Trickett is in charge of publicity and Margaret Relf costumes. The candy stall will be under the direction of Vivian Dodds, assisted by Edna Howcroft and Betty Martin. Ushers will be appointed from girls of the A.Y.P.A. Rodney Thompson will help J. White at the door.

The play is Jerome K. Jerome's "Passing of the Third Floor Back," and will take place on Tuesday, April 23, and Wednesday, April 24, in St. John's auditorium. The committee consists of Jack Laver, Stanley Cooper, John Hooper, James White, and Mores Creelman, Florence Malcolm and Lenora Trickett. On April 18 an executive meeting will be held at the home of Miss Kae Brown. Very Rev. C. S. Qualington will be guest speaker at the meeting on April 1 and his address will be "What Is the Most Live Thing in the Christian Church Today?"

ST. PETER'S

A meeting of St. Peter's Branch Quamichan of the A.Y.P.A. was held on Tuesday evening in the Parish Hall, Norman. Stone was appointed to the mission committee in place of Mollie Footner, who was unable to act. An invitation from St. John's (Duncan) Branch to attend a social on April 23 was accepted. After the business meeting, competitions and community singing were enjoyed.

April 6 to Be Tag Day For Jubilee

Arrangements for the annual tag day were discussed yesterday at the monthly meeting of the Jubilee Hospital Women's Auxiliary, held at the Nurses' Home, Mrs. J. Phethean, the president, in the chair. The date of the tag day is April 6, and new headquarters at 712 View Street, have been kindly placed at the disposal of the auxiliary by Harte & Orme for that day.

This year the objective is a new portable X-ray machine for the hospital, towards which both the senior and junior auxiliaries have already contributed a large amount. There still remains the sum of $500 to be paid on this most necessary piece of hospital equipment, and it is hoped that the public will respond to the appeal as generously as possible.

The auxiliary voted the sum of $150 to purchase two new wheel chairs for the hospital and, upon the request of Miss Mitchell, will purchase two bolts of flannelette and two bolts of unbleached cotton for the fourth floor.

Mrs. J. L. Crimp, sewing convener, reported 160 finished pieces. Mrs. P. E. Taylor, membership convener, reported membership dues amounting to $6 from Mrs. H. A. S. Morley, Mrs. J. J. Goodlake and from Mrs. G. H. Harman, a new member of the auxiliary.

The auxiliary made plans to assist with the supper arrangements on May 2, the day of the hospital graduation exercises.

As taggers are urgently needed for Saturday, April 6, from 8.30 to 4 o'clock, volunteers are asked to communicate with Mrs. Phethean, Garden 1097.

There were seven tables in play at the fortnightly card party held on Monday evening by the Strawberry Vale Athletic Club, when prizes were won by Miss Alviria McNutt, Mr. A. Longland, Mr. T. Francis and Kenney Gilham. Refreshments were served by the Ladies' Auxiliary and dancing followed. Mr. J. Humphries acting as master of ceremonies.

An elderly lady who hated the sea arranged to spend a holiday in the Channel Islands. She boarded the boat at Weymouth and went to her cabin at once. Some time later the steward, passing along, heard audible sounds of trouble emanating from her bunk. "Madame," he said, tapping on the door, "are you ill?" There was an affirmative answer. "Well," said the steward, "what's your hurry? We're still in the harbor, and we don't start for an hour yet."

LIQUOR CARGO WANDERED FAR

Owners Finally Agreed to Pay Duty but U.S. Treasury Refused

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP).—The odyssey of a million dollars worth of choice liquor—a tale with a sad ending for the owners of the spirits—was told at the Treasury and the Federal Alcohol Control Administration.

After journeying to and fro for thousands of miles across the Atlantic, Federal officials said, the liquor has been barred from United States markets because it once formed the cargo of a ship the Government suspected of being a member of California's "rum row."

READY TO PAY

Although the importers were willing to pay full duty their offer was spurned, and officials understood today that the liquor was being sent back to Europe.

The liquors, described by officials as once having been aboard the Canadian freighter Mogul, was, on December 16, 1933, one objective of an order of President Roosevelt calling for co-operation between the coast guard and the navy to halt smuggling on the West Coast.

Shortly before the President had issued the order, Treasury officials said today, a man who claimed to represent owners of the Mogul liquor sought to make a deal where the stuff would be landed legally at Los Angeles and taxes paid. The man, officials said, frankly acknowledged that the liquor "originally was intended for smuggling purposes."

SERIES OF TRAVELS

The proposal was accepted as a challenge, the Treasury said, and the offer refused. Then followed the move to smash smuggling. The liquor, as the officials told the story, started a series of travels.

Authorities asserted it was unloaded in Escondido, Mexico, early in 1934, and from there was shipped to Belgium, where it remained until mid-Winter.

Broken into small consignments, the liquor, 38,000 gallons of the "best brand of Scotch" and 12,000 gallons of champagne, Cognac and assorted liquors, was shipped from Antwerp to New Orleans and New York.

LIST OF DEMANDS MUCH WEIGHTIER

formed of the Berlin talks and the exact situation prevailing.

From high sources it became known tonight that Sir John brought back a much weightier list of demands from Der Fuehrer than was at first suspected. That list, it was reported, might be summed up as follows:

HITLER'S DEMANDS

1. Anschluss with Austria.
2. Reunion with East Prussia by abolishing the Polish Corridor.
3. Readjustment of the Czechoslovakian boundary to bring 3,500,000 Germans back to the Fatherland.

4. Tacit understanding that Germany's Eastern boundaries are not necessarily permanent.
5. Equal strength in the air with Britain and France, the level to be governed by the Soviet Union's air fleet.
6. A navy of about 400,000 tons.

If these six objectives are granted, Germany will return to the League of Nations.

Reports reaching London said Hitler demanded return of Pomorze—the "Polish Corridor"—but this was corrected after Sir John's return. The Reichsfuehrer, it was explained, merely discussed future possibilities regarding German territorial desires along the Eastern frontier without making any specific demand in that connection.

ON WAY TO MOSCOW

Meanwhile, Capt. Anthony Eden, Lord Privy Seal, was on the way to Moscow. From there he will go to Warsaw and Praha, and he will not return here until next week.

Sir John issued a message of good will for Germany on his departure from Berlin, which was widely reproduced here tonight.

"I am very glad to have had the privilege of making the personal acquaintance of the head of this great nation," the Foreign Secretary said. "It would be a mistake to expect immediate and definite results from the meeting, which was one of friendly inquiry only. But I am convinced such contacts as Captain Eden and I have made in Germany will serve the supreme cause which every right-minded man and woman in Germany must have at heart—namely the preservation of world peace and the promotion of universal good-will."

IMPRESSION IN BERLIN

(Copyright, 1935, by the Associated Press)

BERLIN, March 27.—The impression that the two-day conversations between British and German statesmen took a different turn from what Sir John Simon and Captain Anthony Eden had expected, prevailed tonight in diplomatic quarters.

Confering with Britain's Foreign Secretary and her Lord Privy Seal, Chancellor Adolf Hitler took the position throughout the talks that Germany's rearmament was her own private business, and that the other powers would come in only when they were ready to talk reduction and limitation of arms concretely and on the basis of Germany's enjoying complete military equality with them.

APPARENT CERTAINTIES

Out of the welter of speculation following the conclusion of Anglo-German conversations and the departure of Sir John Simon, British Foreign Secretary, for London, these apparent certainties emerged:

1. Hitler wants as many soldiers, as many guns, as many airplanes as France has.
2. He would like to have arms superiority over Soviet Russia.
3. "A small percentage of the British Navy" will content him.
4. He regards German rearmament as an accomplished fact, and revision of the Versailles Treaty actually effected thereby.
5. His insistence on Germany's right to Gleichberechtigung—complete and unequivocal equality with other powers in all foreign relationships—is unchanged.
6. The Reich's return to the League of Nations will depend on his judgment of the treatment accorded Germany.

ACCOMPLISHED AT PARLEY

The high authority who listed Hitler's contentions said the accomplishments of the two days of parley were these:

1. A British "gentleman's agreement" not to insist on the mutual assistance clause of the proposed Eastern European Security Pact, in return for which Germany gave assurance she will not attack Russia.
2. Hitler's expression of willingness to enter an agreement for amity and friendship with Lithuania, provided Lithuania lives up to the terms of the statute guaranteeing certain rights to German residents in the former German territory of Memel.

Meanwhile, all Germany seethed with resentment at the death sentences meted out to four Nazis in Kaunas, capital of Lithuania, yesterday, in connection with an asserted Nazi plot to seize Memel.

A Foreign Office spokesman, meanwhile, categorically denied reports credited to high British authorities that Germany had demanded return of Pomorze (the "Polish corridor").

URGE SECURITY PACT

MOSCOW, March 28 (AP).—Considered, Soviet Russia's official mouthpiece, the newspaper Zvestia, flatly and strongly urged an Eastern security pact today as Anthony Eden neared Moscow to start the Anglo-Russian peace conversations.

Those who do not wish to take part in such pact, said the newspaper, "will reveal their true aims but will not diminish the significance of this instrument of peace."

It said there was "no use in concealing that the ideal of an Eastern pact has emerged in connection with the resurrection of power of German imperialism with its armaments and predatory programme. It would be hypocrisy to deny this origin for it."

The youthful British Lord Privy Seal, coming straight to Moscow from his conversations with Adolf Hitler in Berlin, was due here tomorrow morning.

He was scheduled to see Joseph Stalin, Soviet dictator, on Friday, meanwhile holding several conferences with Litvinov, of which the first is set for tomorrow afternoon.

CLAIM "INSIDE" STORY

PARIS, March 27 (CP-Havas).—A German offer to sign a bilateral Anglo-German air treaty was rejected by Sir John Simon, British Foreign Secretary, and Capt. Anthony Eden, British Lord Privy Seal, at the Berlin conversations.

Le Journal said tonight: "Asserting he had the 'inside story' of the talks, Le Journal said Chancellor Adolf Hitler set forth his demands as follows:

An army of 550,000, including 100,000 regulars.

A navy of 420,000 tons, that is, 35 per cent of the British.

Right to increase naval tonnage if the British did.

Aviation equality with the strongest European air force, that is, a minimum of 4,000 pursuit and bombing planes.

THE LAST CHANCE

ROME, March 27 (CP-Havas).—Italy pinned her hopes for peace today on her preparedness for war.

The international peace talks at Stresa were generally regarded as

Turkey Is Seeking British Helmets

This armful of steel helmets are part of the 400,000 made for the British army seventeen years ago. An agent, called a "master mind" by the newspapers, had been scouring London in an effort to buy them. It was revealed later that he was acting for Turkey. Only 170,000 were located, and the 230,000 others needed, may have to be manufactured.

a last, slim chance for securing accords.

Giuseppe Vale, Under-Secretary of State for Aviation, told the Chamber of Deputies that Italy's new air fleet would be completed in three instead of six years, at a cost of 1,200,000,000 lire (about $28,800,000).

APPOINTMENT IS GIVEN APPROVAL

"I do not feel that in going to Canada I am really leaving home, since Canada has been so largely made by my countrymen and been so much inspired by Scottish tradition."

"I am looking forward also to seeing much of that wonderful French-Canadian race, who have produced some of the chief pioneers in the world's history. I found in the war that the old Scottish friendship with France is still a living tradition."

Mr. Buchanan's intimates in the House of Commons, including Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, were among many who expressed pleasure over the appointment as one that could hardly be bettered.

POPULAR WITH ALL

A sidelight on his popularity with all classes was furnished while he was being interviewed. A waiter approached and warned him that the House of Commons' bell was ringing for a division.

"I ceased to be a member at 3 o'clock this afternoon," Mr. Buchanan smilingly replied.

"I am sorry sir," said the waiter. "May I congratulate you on your new appointment," he added warmly.

An argument put forward by the Seattle Chamber was that exchange of the House (he has sat as a Conservative for the Scottish universities since 1927) automatically ended when the King signed the appointment.

His exit from the House was as unobtrusive as all his actions. Mr. Buchanan simply rose from his seat, spoke for a few minutes to the Prime Minister and then, with a bow to the speaker, left the floor for the last time.

It was assumed here that Mr. Buchanan, the first commoner to be appointed a Governor-General of Canada, will be elevated to the peerage before he goes to Canada.

ASKS FREE DUTY ON ADVERTISING

Seattle Chamber of Commerce Acting on Suggestion of Victoria Publicity Bureau

Seattle Chamber of Commerce has suggested to the United States Chamber of Commerce at Washington, D.C., that proposed reciprocal trade agreements between the United States and Canada include advertising matter, not carrying individual trade advertisements issued by communities, or non-profit sharing organizations, working in the interests of communities, as being allowed to enter the United States from Canada or Canada from the United States duty free.

George I. Warren, Victoria publicity commissioner, on his return from a tour of cities of the Pacific Northwest yesterday, explained the Seattle Chamber acted on a suggestion advanced by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau.

An argument put forward by the Seattle Chamber was that exchange of advertising material was more important in Pacific Northwest States and Western Canada than perhaps in the East. Much publicity, encouraging tourist and passenger travel and issued by publicity bureaus and chambers of commerce, was financed by those organizations and exchanged between the various groups, but assessed duty by both countries.

The Seattle organization suggested it would be logical to exempt such material from duty, particularly as its distribution resulted in international travel and trade. It pointed out one of the best ways to foster amicable international relations between the United States and Canada was by increasing the volume of tourists between the two countries. One of the most effective ways of attaining such results was by distribution of folders, pamphlets and maps, giving information calculated of practical value to holiday visitors, it pointed out.

Speed King Honored at Washington

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP).—Sir Malcolm Campbell today received from Vice-President Garner a silver plaque commemorating his five championship automobile speed races on the sands of Daytona Beach, Fla.

Calling the British sportsman an ambassador of good will between the United States and Great Britain, Garner said he had "demonstrated a skill and heroism which we all honor."

PREDICTS HIGH SPEEDS IN AIR

Lecturers Says Terrific Velocity Possible by Rocket Planes in Stratosphere

PASADENA, Cal., March 27 (AP).—Rocket planes, whizzing through the stratosphere at speeds of at least fifteen to twenty miles a minute, were described as theoretically possible, at California Institute of Technology here, tonight.

Such sharp-nosed craft, with very small wings and rudders and no engine or propeller, would be propelled by gasoline and liquid oxygen, or similar fuel, exploding in a round chamber and shooting out jets at the rear.

In a lecture, William Bolly, research fellow at the institute, said he had computed that a rocket plane carrying fuel amounting to 90 per cent of the total starting weight, could travel 500 miles in about 2,000 seconds (33 minutes) if it shot up to 80,000 feet altitude in the first four or five minutes and leveled off.

TWENTY MILES A MINUTE

Such a plane having 80 per cent of its starting weight in fuel and leveling off at 120,000 feet altitude would travel 1,000 miles in 3,000 seconds, or at the rate of twenty miles a minute, he said.

He suggested rocket planes of this type, carrying only a pilot—who probably would have to lie prone in the bullet-like fuselage—as possibilities for quick transportation for urgent mail, for investigation of upper stratosphere conditions.

HOPE FOR CROSSING

If a plane could be built to carry about 90 per cent of its total weight in fuel, it probably could cross the United States in little more than an hour, Bolly said.

A plane of 60 per cent fuel weight, he said, would reach 80,000 feet altitude in 250 seconds. By the expiration of 450 seconds (seven and one-half minutes) the fuel would be gone, but a velocity of 4,000 feet a second would have been reached. This terrific impetus would cause the plane to glide for 550 more seconds. At the expiration of this time, or 1,000 seconds from the time of the take-off, the plane would angle downward and land after another 1,000 seconds, having traveled 500 miles at an average speed of fifteen miles a minute, Bolly said.

BOWLERS TO MEET

The Burnside Lawn Bowling Club will hold a general meeting at Hampton Hall, tonight at 8 o'clock. Arrangements for the opening of the green about the last week in April will be made. J. W. Mercer, chairman of the games committee, has arrangements well in hand for the various club competitions to be played during the coming season. W. Washington, the green warden, is busy in preparing the green for the opening, and it is expected that it will be in good shape for play by Easter.

Stale coffee is irritating to your system. Leaves you "touchy" and out of sorts.

To avoid the effects of stale coffee drinking, Chase & Sanborn rush their coffee fresh to your grocer by the same Dominion-wide delivery service that brings him Fleischmann's Yeast fresh regularly.

Try this fresher, fuller flavored coffee. A blend of the world's choicest coffee beans, yet reasonably priced because we buy coffee beans in such large quantities. Packed in half-pound and one-pound vacuum tins. Buy a tin tomorrow!

The committee therefore recommended that no action be taken by this board of trade.

Saanich Council Will Try to Eliminate Trouble, Farmers Learn

KEATING, March 27.—The South Saanich Farmers' Institute held its meeting at Temperance Hall, East Saanich Road, with a good attendance of members, W. D. Michell presiding.

A report on the mosquito nuisance was given by W. D. Michell, who said the Municipal Council had promised to do everything it could to eliminate this trouble. A letter was also forwarded to the Municipal Council requesting that repairs be made to the flood gates at Island View Beach to let out stagnant water, which was the breeding ground for mosquitoes.

A discussion favored the continuation of the Cordova Bay Road to Saanichton. This would help protect the land and give access to property that is at present very difficult to reach, and it was decided that this be brought to the notice of the municipality.

A resolution objecting to daylight saving was endorsed. The members also endorsed the appointment of Mr. Wade on the Sheep and Swine Marketing Board.

A letter from the Department of National Defence asking for tenders on supplies to relief camps was left in the hands of the secretary to make further inquiry as to requirements.

R. Woolton addressed the members on the Farmers' Creditors Arrangement Act. He pointed out the advantages to be obtained under the act to aid farmers who were in difficulties by arranging credit to the benefit of both farmer and creditor.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Woolton for his address. At the next meeting, Dr. Gordon Keown will speak on veterinary work. The Farmers' Institute will entertain the Women's Institute some time in April.

GARBAGE DOCK IS BEING REPAIRED

Crushing Machinery Would Not Eliminate Beach Nuisance, Officials Claim

Temporary repairs to the city garbage wharf at the foot of Herald Street are under way. Several of the piles are being set in concrete. Mayor David Leeming pointed out some time ago that a large portion of the dock eventually would have to be rebuilt.

When asked their opinion of a garbage crusher, as discussed by the City Council on Monday evening, several officials of the garbage department believed such a machine would only prevent cans from floating back to the beaches. Other matter, they thought, even if crushed, would still float.

C. M. Irwin, city engineer, is investigating the feasibility and cost of such an apparatus.

LOCAL BOXERS BEAT VISITORS

Griffin, Carey and Parker
Chalk Up Wins Over Main-landers on Good Card

"Biff" Griffin took the main event of the Victoria Athletic Club's mixed fight card last night at the Tillicum gym before a fair house from Harry Wedley, West Vancouver boxer, while Rex Carey, 16th Canadian Scottish fighter, threw too many gloves for young Pat Vickery, North Vancouver, and was awarded a popular decision in the other principal bout on the card.

Stepping into a stiff right to the jaw in the first round, Wedley took the count of nine, but came back strong in the closing rounds to narrowly miss gaining a draw. The boys fought in spurts, either walking around each other or tearing in and slugging toe to toe. The Vancouver lad showed plenty of class, but did not have the experience of his older opponent.

Rex Carey had little difficulty in disposing of Pat Vickery in the 150-pound class. Vickery, a slight lad, put up a game fight, but Carey was able to hold him off to gain the nod.

EFFA BEATS FARMER
In the feature wrestling match, Joe Effa, Winnipeg grappler, took the odd fall from George Farmer, local squarer, in the last round of their scheduled three-round mix.

Both wrestlers gained their falls with body presses, although Farmer's fall proved unpopular with the fans when he had but one of Effa's shoulders on the mat.

The only knockout of the evening went to Bob Parker, of the Scottish, when he kayoed young Harry King, Vancouver. This bout was a gory affair, as King continued to press in despite a bad nose bleed which seriously handicapped him.

In a furious last-round exchange of blows, Jack Daley came through with a decision over Doug Ball. Both boys were badly cut and tired as the final gong sounded. In the opener, H. Pousford was awarded an unpopular verdict over Wilf Shoultice.

Pete Tyson was forced to concede a close wrestling match to Jim Yates, when a split finger prevented him from going on with the match. Yates had secured one fall. Wal Ralph and Don Tyson gained a one-fall draw in the 120-pound grappling class.

A good brand of fighting was displayed in all the bouts and the management is pleased to announce that another mixed card will be held next Wednesday. It is planned to import outside talent.

All Is Well That Ends Well
By THORNTON W. BURGESS

When things go wrong, just patient be Until the end you plainly see;
Things that go wrong, please bear in mind,
May end quite well, you'll often find.

Reddy Fox, trotting homeward, had nothing but bitterness in his heart and nothing in his stomach. He was tired and hungry and bitterly disappointed. He was in company with which he was not familiar, and so he did not know where to hunt, and he felt that he just must get something to eat. Do what he would he couldn't help thinking about that fat hen he had hidden and which had so mysteriously disappeared. The more he thought of it the worse he felt. It was bad enough to be hungry and have no idea where the next meal was coming from, but it was many times worse to have that meal and then lose it. To Reddy everything was all wrong.

Now on his way home Reddy had to pass several farms. Hunger made him bold, and at each farm he stole softly as near as possible to the farmyard, hoping that he might find more fat hens unguarded. Now it happened that that afternoon a farmer at one of these farms was preparing some chickens to be taken to market early the next morning. He was picking these chickens in a shed attached to the barn. He had several all picked when he was called to the house on an errand. It happened that just after he had disappeared Reddy Fox came stealing from behind the barn, and at once he smelled those chickens. Just imag-

LINCOLN, England, March 27 (CP).—Flamenco won the Lincolnshire Handicap today, first great race of the new flat racing season, with Bow and Arrow second and Heavyweight third.

Thirty-four horses ran. The winner, owned by Lord Rosebery, and carrying nearly top weight, 126 pounds, started at odds of 8 to 1. Bow and Arrow, owned by Sir Charles McLeod, and carrying 124 pounds, was an outsider at 40 to 1. Heavyweight, owned by J. Ramsden, and weighted with 125 pounds, started at 3 to 1.

The race was run over the straight mile in fine weather and on a good track, with an unusually large crowd of hand. It was the eighty-fifth renewal of the opening season feature. The purse was worth approximately $8,000.

Flamenco is a four-year-old bay colt by Flamingo out of Valescure. Flamenco won easily, reaching the wire three lengths ahead of Bow and Arrow, with Heavyweight another length and a half back.

DRAW PLAYS BIG PART
Llanarmon, who started favorite at 7 to 1, was nowhere at the finish. The draw played a big part in the result, with such a big field. Flamenco, Bow and Arrow, and Heavyweight all being on the outside.

BURKE SEEKS RETURN BOUT WITH AFGHAN

Tacoma Grappler Anxious to Meet Khan—May Battle Saturday

Rugged Leo Burke, Tacoma mat man, has issued a challenge to Abdel Khan, colorful and bewhiskered wrestler from far-away Afghanistan, for a return bout here Saturday evening at the Tillicum gymnasium. Defeated last week by what he termed a "fluke," Tacoma has asked for another match with the Afghan, and Promoter Fred Richardson announced yesterday that he expects a favorable reply from Khan today. The Afghan boasts of never backing out of any match, and if he makes good this assertion he will be seen in action Saturday against Burke.

Last week Burke gave the Far Eastern wrestler the toughest argument he has ever had in a Victoria ring, and more than once the rugged Afghan sought solace outside the ring. With the match standing at one fall each, Khan pulled a fast one in the fifth round and scored an unpopular victory.

Local fans who witnessed the match have been asking for a rematch, and Promoter Fred Richardson yesterday for Seattle to try and complete arrangements for the appearance here Saturday evening of Burke and Khan.

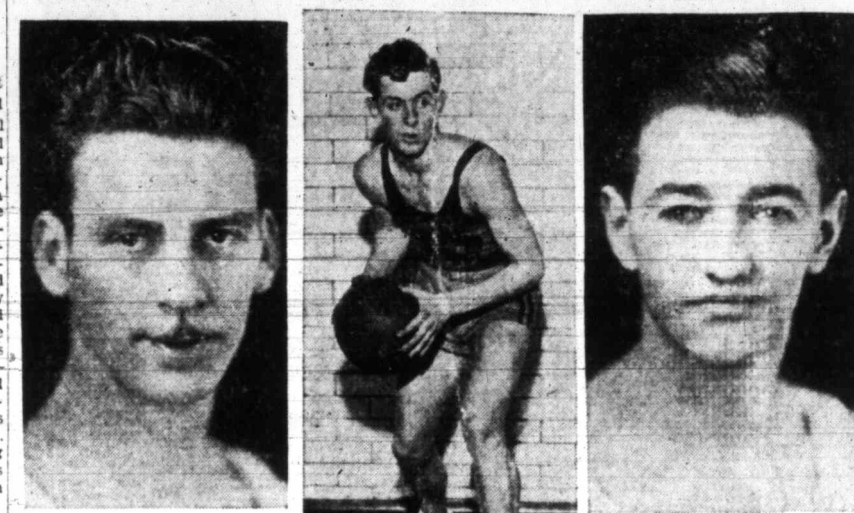

Officials in charge of the mat game here stated yesterday evening that they feel confident that the local promoter will be able to make final plans for the bout upon his arrival in Seattle.

Mixed fourfours will be played at the Royal Colwood Golf Club, Sunday. Members are asked to arrange their own partners, opponents and starting times.

PICTURED above are the members of the Victoria Blue Ribbons cage squad, who yesterday evening captured the British Columbia men's senior "A" championship title. When they defeated the Varsity "Thunderbirds," Mainland titleholders, 37-36, in the fifth and final game of the provincial playoffs at the Victoria High School gymnasium. The final fixture, one crowded with excitement, proved a fitting conclusion to one of the most hectic play-off series witnessed in British Columbia cage circles for many a day. The victory advanced the Blue Ribbons, former Canadian champions, a notch closer to their second Dominion title. Lead in the championship series concluded yesterday evening, swayed from one club to the other, with the Ribbons finally emerging from the fray as victors. Blue Ribbons won the first game, 30-24; Varsity took the second fixture, 29-23, and gained a one-game was taxed to the limit long before the preliminary fixture got under way. Members of the Victoria police department did their best to control the fans. At times during the game ripe tomatoes were tossed from the gallery, as well as chocolate bars and other miscellaneous articles. Once, a large dumbbell came sailing from nowhere, just missing Referee Joe Polley's head.

GAME HALTED
This act sent officials of the league into action and the game was halted for several minutes while President Jack Taylor appealed to the crowd that a repetition of such an act, and the game would be called off and played later, most likely in another city. Manager J. A. Barnard, of the Ribbons, stated after the series, that such actions by fans will not be tolerated in the future.

Jumping into the lead shortly after the opening whistle, the Ribbons clung doggedly in front until the final bell. Both squads were brilliant at times, with the Ribbons clever passing and smart teamwork dominating. Varsity threw everything they had into a last-minute effort to pick defeat out of the fire and were certainly gunning for victory when the end came, which, no doubt, was sweet music in the ears of the local supporters.

George "Porky" Andrews turned in another dazzling display for the local quintette, and can be put down in the books as the individual hero of the series, while Art Chapman was at top form, putting six out of eight foul-line attempts. Again "Red" Martin, Doug Peden and Chuck Chapman worked like demons. Martin and Chuck Chapman were in the cooler when the game finished, while Art Willoughby, Ralph Henderson and Jack Ross were also off on personals for Varsity. Jimmy Bardsley, visiting captain, attempted a one-man task of bringing his squad through and gave a sparkling display from the floor and foul-line, ending the tussle with twenty points, seven field goals and six awarded throws.

Varsity in Lead
Less than ten seconds after the opening tip-off, Ralph Henderson canned a long shot from near centre to put Varsity out in front. The students continued long attempts in succession, and also from the strip when Art Chapman was called for charging on the dribble. Peden opened the local scoring when hooked hard by Willoughby, and then Art Chapman converted one of two shots given against Henderson, while Chuck Chapman missed a technical foul.

Bardsley nearly scored with a long one seconds later, while Peden missed a set-up shot after Andrews had made an opening. Then Bardsley raced down the side court and potted a one-hander from the corner, but Art Chapman, Peden and Martin broke fast with Peden registering from under the hoop, and Andrews went through from the next centre and flipped an easy one through as he was hacked by Pringle. He converted to make it 7-4 for the Ribbons, after seven minutes play.

After Bardsley had taken Willoughby's pass to drop one through from the side, he fouled Chuck Chapman on the dribble and the big local captain came through from the foul line. As play continued a double foul was called. Art Chapman and Henderson being implicated, the former scoring and the latter missing. Swan broke away neatly but charged into Art Chapman and the local tip-off easy converted, and Chuck Chapman took the next centre and made it 13-6, with ten minutes gone.

The game continued at a dizzy pace, with the Ribbons still dominating and holding their lead. Bardsley made it 14-11 with another of his long floaters, and the Ribbons called time out with six minutes to go. George Pringle sliced the local lead with a long high shot, but Doug Peden sneaked away, camped under the Varsity hoop, took a long pass from Andrews and scored a set-up shot. At this stage the game was delayed as the referees settled a technical point over something.

Champion Expects to See Carnera Win From Negro Fighter in June

SACRAMENTO, Calif., March 27 (AP).—Heavyweight champion Max Baer predicted today that Primo Carnera would explode the meteoric rush of Detroit's sensational negro fighter, Joe Louis.

At the same time Max calmly reassured the pugilistic world he would whack any and all challengers lopsided—whenever a title bout is arranged.

Before and during a hot golf match, the big Californian went through the serious business of taking to pieces the various contenders for his crown.

"I think Carnera will beat Louis when they fight in June," Max said. "If Carnera is in as good physical condition as when he fought me, I think he will wear Louis out."

"But no matter who comes out on top, I'll be on hand to give the ultimate winner a trouncing. They all look alike to Maxie when he gets them in the ring."

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON
The First Kingfish—John Law, of Edinburgh (1671-1729), fled England after he was sentenced to death for killing a man. He devoted himself to the study of high finance, in the course of which he became the advocate of some amazing ideas. He held that the prosperity of a country depended upon the quantity of money in circulation. This money must preferably be created out of nothing. He was what would now be described as a wild inflationist, who, in addition, held that fiat paper money is healthier than gold specie. He traveled through Europe, gambling and advocating the redistribution of wealth and individual sovereignty.

When Louis XIV of France died, leaving the Duke of Orleans regent for the five-year-old successor to the throne, Law saw his chance. In a short time the Duke made him financial chief of France. In those days all the territory drained by the Mississippi, Ohio and Missouri Rivers belonged to France. Law was made sovereign ruler of the territory with the title of King of Louisiana and Duke of Arkansas. He established the Louisiana Company which later became more famous as the Mississippi Bubble. All the projects of Law were now put into effect. He really demonetized gold and silver, abolished most of the taxes of the country and printed $600,000,000 worth of paper money. For a short time everything was well. Many people made great fortunes for the stock of his company rose $4000 per cent. The inevitable crash came in May, 1720. The result of Law's administration was so frightful that for nearly 100 years thereafter no bank was permitted in France.

Law died in Venice and the French engraved on his tombstone, that "Here Lies the Scoundrel Who Put All France in the Poorhouse."

The Money of the Air—Highest—James VI of Scotland, who later became James I of England (1566-1625), coined four-pound gold pieces which, in addition to an English legend, bore the name of God in Hebrew characters. The name of Jehovah is held in such awe that no Jew ever pronounced this name. Thousands of years ago on the day of Atonement only, officiating at the Temple of Jerusalem, the high priest of Judah alone was permitted to utter the sacred name, once.

Saanich Chalks Up 6-3 Decision Over Esquimalt Eleven

Registers Impressive Victory in Fragments of France Cup Soccer Series in Fixture at Oak Bay Park—Winners' Goalie Is Brilliant

Holders of the prized Fragments of France Cup, symbolic of the school soccer championship of Victoria and district, for the past three years, a well-balanced and smooth-functioning Saanich School's soccer eleven yesterday served notice that they are out to retain the coveted honors, when they chalked up a 6-3 victory over an Esquimalt team at Oak Bay Park.

Saanich gained a 4-0 lead as the teams reached the breather, and early in the final canto made it 5-0, but a fighting bunch of youngsters from the dockyard village ran in three goals in a determined second-half stand against a team that was superior in most departments of the game.

Considerable credit for the Saanich victory must go to G. Kitchen, young Cloverdale School student, and brilliant goalie, who turned in a finished exhibition between the sticks and robbed the Esquimalt front line of what looked like certain markers, particularly in the initial half. Cool at all times, even under fire, Kitchen is the best prospect that the Fragments of France Cup series has brought to the front for many a day.

PERFORMS "HAT TRICK"
Vic Booth, sharpshooting inside right on the Saanich eleven; Reg Ralph, inside left, and J. Kennedy, left fullback, were the other outstanding players on the winning line-up. Booth completed the "hat trick" early in the game, while Ralph, who scored two goals, and Kennedy, on the defence, turned in finished exhibitions. The sixth Saanich goal was garnered by Wells Isbister.

S. Cooper, brilliant young centre-half, was the pick of the Esquimalt eleven and, while he roamed a little more than he should have done, the boy displayed good knowledge of the game. John Stewart, stocky inside right, accounted for two of Esquimalt's markers, and Bill McCall, who netted their first tally was the other scorer for the losers.

SAANICH BEST TEAM
While the final score was 6-3 in favor of Saanich, it did not represent the play. Esquimalt, with a stronger defence, would have made the score closer and, but for the Saanich goalie's fine work, there is not the slightest doubt but what the margin of victory would have been smaller. However, in fairness to the winners, it must be said that they were the best team and deserving of victory.

Three successive goals by Vic Booth gave the Saanich School's eleven a 3-0 lead in the first twenty minutes, and then Wells Isbister made it 4-0 just before the breather.

BOSTON CUBS SET RECORD

Tallies by Sage and Fish Decide Important Match in Pendray Cup Series—Winners Dominate Play From Start—Maccabees Nose Out Garrison, 3-2—Navy Trims Rangers, 2-0

Navy	3	4	1	13	21	7
Garrison	3	5	0	18	20	6
Rangers	2	6	0	12	24	4

Playing much better football than the opposition, Hudson's Bay continued their march towards the Pendray Cup, symbolic of the Wednesday Football League championship, yesterday afternoon at Heywood Avenue grounds by blanking Spencers, 2-0, before one of the largest midweek crowds of the season, despite the cold weather. Maccabees jumped into a tie for second berth with the Diamond "S" lads by nosing out the Garrison at Work Point Barracks, 3-2, while the Navy whitewashed the lowly Outer Wharf Rangers, 2-0, at Beacon Hill Park to move into undisputed third position.

Hudson's Bay widened their lead over Spencers to a game and a half, and a victory next week over the Garrison at the Royal Athletic Park will give them the trophy and title, regardless of the outcomes of the other fixtures. So the soldiers can do a good turn for Spencers and also the Maccabees by turning back the departmentals.

BAYS PRESS
Spencers opened on the attack against the Bays, but their offensives were soon turned back, and the winners took possession of the play. Sage was first to test the goalie when he rifled a long, hard drive at him, but Stewartson made a fine stop. Then after working two corners, Fish got in close and called upon the net tender to stop a rapid drive, ticketed for the corner.

The Bays nearly scored from a foul given against Les Bradley just outside the penalty area. Stewart sent the ball into the goal mouth, where Stevens narrowly missed by heading over the bar. Still dominating the game, Sage scored after twenty-two minutes when he took a cross from Wally Stewart, and his peculiar shot went by Stewartson, whose sight was blocked by players in front of him. A few minutes later, Baxter, who had little to do, made a great save from Borde.

Spencers were having many fouls called against them, and another against Les Bradley nearly resulted in Stevens heading to the top corner, the ball just grazing the frame-work from Stewart's kick. Minutes later, a foul was whistled against Oakman, but Baxter cleared nicely from Bissell, and then Stewart had tough luck when he took Sage's pass, tricked L. Bradley, cut in towards the net, and missed the goal by inches. The half arrived with the Bays protecting their one-goal lead.

FISH REGISTERS

As the final half started, Spencers turned on the early pressure, but their attacks were repulsed time and time again. George Wyatt, fullback, who was injured early in the game, stood to his post, and despite a bad limp, broke up some dangerous rushes. After eighteen minutes, Fish tricked his way through, assisted by Sage and Stevens, and scored from close range to put the game on ice. Right after Sage whistled two fast ones over the bar, and Stewart emulated him later in the game, and then Stevens missed the woodwork by inches with a great attempt.

Spencers tried hard as time was going, but they were running up against a stubborn half line and back division, and their efforts proved in vain.

McMillan refereed and teams followed.

Spencers—Stewartson; Munroe; Cann; L. Bradley; Bissell, D. Bradley; Browne, Clarke, Borde, Moir and McMillan.

Hudson's Bay—Baxter; O'Connell; Wyatt; Williamson; Kennedy; Oakman; Fish; Richards; Sage, Stevens and Stewart.

NAVY WINS, 2-0

Scoring once in each half, Navy defeated the Outer Wharf Rangers, 2-0, at Beacon Hill Park. The sailors had the better of the play in the initial stanza, and when under heavy pressure in the last twenty minutes of the final canto, proved capable of defending their citadel in spectacular fashion.

Eight minutes after the match commenced the Navy garnered the only tally of the first half, when McCuag scored after receiving a pass from Hutton. The shot was well placed and gave Fleming, Rangers' goalie, little chance to save.

Tommy Watt, veteran forward, netted the final marker of the match fifteen minutes after the change-over. Gaining possession of the loose ball near the centre of the field, Watt tricked his way through the opposition and picked the corner with a well-directed drive.

Facing a two-goal deficit, the Rangers put on the pressure in the last twenty minutes of the game, but could not lodge the ball in the net that Mundie, clever sailor net custodian, was guarding.

The Rangers forwards sent in a number of good shots, but Mundie stopped everything that came his way, and when the final whistle sounded, the sailors walked off the field with a 2-0 victory.

Shrimpton refereed and the teams were:

Navy—Mundie, Healey, Hibbert, Mann, Hutton, Sinclair, Brown, Gleave, T. Watt, Smith and McCuag.

Outer Wharf Rangers—Fleming, Gelling, White, Harding, McConnell, Rouskamp, Daw, Robb, Bourne, P. Bourne and Ball.

MACCABEES BEAT TOMMIES

Holding a 2-1 lead as the teams reached the brotherly Maccabees scored a 3-2 victory over the Garrison in a keenly-fought encounter at Work Point Barracks.

Both teams failed to score from spot kicks. Bissell, of the Garrison, skied over the bar when the Tommies were awarded a penalty, and in the second half, A. Murray missed the goal with a terrific drive.

Maccabees jumped into the lead in the early minutes of the match when Fieldhouse scored from a free kick well outside the penalty area. Still having the better of the play the eventual winners made it 2-0, when A. Murray sagged the rigging with a hefty first time drive.

ROTTERDAM, March 27 (AP).—Willy Den Ouden, Dutch mermaid, today lowered the listed world's record for the 500-meter free-style swim, covering the distance in 6 mins. 48.5 secs. The listed record is held by Helene Madison, of the United States, who swam the distance in 7:12 in 1931.

one or two close calls, they finally lodged the pigskin in the Maccabees' net, when Bissell tallied during a scrimmage in front of the goal. This was the final marker of the initial stanza.

Displaying good combination as the final half opened, the Tommies equalized when Bissard banged home the tying goal from close range. Still keeping up the pressure, the Garrison missed many excellent scoring chances.

Breaking fast after an attack on their citadel, the Maccabees snatched victory in the late minutes of the game, when Speller found the rigging after accepting a pass from A. Murray.

McKinnon refereed and the teams were:

Maccabees—Harris, Eastwood, Graves, McEllan, Fieldhouse, Hill, Garnot, A. Murray, Speller, M. McBride and Newell.

Garrison—Glendenning, Worswick, Wilkinson, Stewart, Evans, Edwards, McAllister, Melis, Miller, Bissard and Pocock.

SINKS TEE SHOT

Sinking his tee shot from the 152-yard seventh hole at Colwood yesterday afternoon, J. M. Nicol, well-known Victoria masher, joined the ranks of the mythical "hole-in-one club." He was playing with George Strath, "Sandy" Marling and Cecil Brown at the time.

TO SHAKE OFF INJURY JINX

Washington Senators Expect to Enjoy Better Season This Year

BILOXI, Miss., March 27 (AP).—Washington Senators have a choice of opportunities in the forthcoming American Baseball League pennant race. The 1933 champions cracked up last season, dropping seven notches down the standing, but should be a First Division factor again this year.

The Senators figure to shake off the injury jinx that riddled the batting order during 1934, but it's another story when it comes to filling the big shoes of Joseph Edward Cronin at shortstop, or making an erratic pitching staff perform winning tricks. Stanley "Bucky" Harris is optimistic, naturally, but he knows his pitching corps is a big gamble.

The only notable addition to the staff that fell apart last year is Irving "Bumpy" Hadley, former wild man of St. Louis Browns, but a highly effective righthander when he is right.

Mrs. Cuppage Wins Golf at Uplands

Mrs. E. Cuppage won the play-off for the Simple Cup at the Uplands Golf Club recently by turning in a card of 100-19-81, to beat Miss D. Fletcher and Miss M. Wolfenden, who had finished in a tie with her in the medal winners' play-off. In the monthly par competition held on Tuesday, three tied for first place by finishing three down. They were Mrs. E. Nickson, Mrs. Clifford and Mrs. Darcus-Holder.

WELSH DEFEAT IRISH SQUAD BY 3-1 SCORE

Captures International Football Match Before 20,000 Spectators

WREXHAM, Wales, March 27 (CP).—Wales defeated Ireland, 3-1, here today in an international soccer match played before 20,000 spectators.

Coulter, Everton's classy Irish winger, suffered a fractured right leg in the second half of the match from a collision with Williams, a clubmate.

The game was refereed by Dr. Bauwens, of Germany. The Principality deserved to win the match, C. W. Jones beat Breen for the first goal after eight minutes. Bambrick, Chelsea sharpshooter, evened matters shortly afterwards. Wales went two up when Phillips converted a penalty.

Hopkins netted the only goal scored after the interval. After a brilliant run in which he eluded all opposition, the Brentford winger sent the ball past Breen with an oblique shot.

The teams:

Wales—Hughes, Blackburn Rovers; Williams, Everton; John, Arsenal; Murphy, West Bromwich Albion; Griffiths, Middlesbrough; Richards, Wolverhampton Wanderers; Hopkins, Brentford; L. Jones, Coventry; C. W. Jones, Birmingham; Bryn Jones, Wolverhampton Wanderers; and Phillips, Wolverhampton Wanderers.

Ireland—Green, Belfast Celtic; Mackie, Portsmouth; Fulton, Belfast Celtic; McCullough, Belfast Celtic; Jones, Linfield; Gowdy, Linfield; Duggan, Leeds United; Brown, Wolverhampton Wanderers; Bambrick, Chelsea; Doherty, Blackpool; and Coulter, Everton.

CLAPPER IS OUT

Babe Seibert, who has replaced both Eddie Shore and Neil Stewart as the "villain" in the Boston case in the view of Toronto customers, will play beside Shore on the defence with a swollen and aching ankle. Dit Clapper, whose overtime goal broke up the first series game, has a stiff knee. Goalie, Tiny Thompson wears stitches in his lip.

Neither Patrick nor Dick Irvin and Conny Smythe would come out and say what style of play will be used in the third game.

PLAY TONIGHT

NEW YORK, March 27 (CP).—Montreal Maroons and New York Rangers were riding the tonight for their semi-final round battle in the Stanley Cup wars.

Advices were that both squads would be at full strength when they match brains and brawn at Madison Square Garden on Thursday night in the first game of their total goal series for the right to meet the survivors of the current National Hockey League title struggle between Boston and Toronto.

Captain Bill Cook, whose scalp was opened by Neil Crutcher's stick here Sunday, and Earl Seibert, made lame by a Sylvio Mantha check in the first encounter, were two of the stars as the blueshirts held the desperate Canadians to a four-goal draw on their home ice last night to win the round, 6-5.

Maroons were in top condition and optimistic as they left Chicago for New York after eliminating last year's Stanley Cup winners by a 1-0 score last night after the teams had played a scoreless draw in the first game at Montreal.

Hockey Smith took his injured thumb into the decisive game against the Hawks. With two more days for the injured digit to show further improvement, the No. 1 pivot of Tommy Gorman's hopefuls was expected to be in top form for the ranger series.

PRESTON WOMEN WIN CANADIAN HOCKEY TITLE

GALT, Ont., March 27 (CP).—Preston Rivulettes became holders of the Lady Bessborough Trophy emblematic of the women's hockey championship of Canada tonight by defeating Winnipeg Etanots, 3-1, to win the two-game round, 10-2.

Evidence of the popularity of women's hockey was found in the crowd of 3,000 that jammed the Soper Park Arena.

The game was a peppy affair, the girls carrying their sticks high, tripping and boarding. There were a couple of near fights. Fourteen penalties in all were handed out, evenly divided.

PUDDING

"So long as it tastes good, what matters it where pudding comes from," may express the attitude of many people; but these fail to appreciate that even gastronomic flavor is enhanced with the sauce of etymological garnishment.

Pudding is a corruption and derivation of the Latin, botulus, the French boudin, through the actual German pudding, all meaning sausage. While pudding is variously made, the usual ingredients are flour, milk and eggs. The original pudding, however, was an intestine which was stuffed with meat and spices, thick and stumpy in shape.

Lions Defeat Seattle to Win Hockey Championship

Vancouver Squad Ekes Out 2-1 Victory in Over-time Battle—O'Neill Scores Winning Tally in Solo Rush

SEATTLE, March 27 (CP)—Vancouver Lions won the Northwestern Professional Hockey League championship here tonight, when they eked out a 2-1 overtime victory over Seattle Sea Hawks in the fifth and deciding game of their best of five series.

Tip O'Neill, diminutive second-string center, who learned his hockey at St. Mary's College in Calgary, gave Vancouver its first professional hockey championship in years, when he scored through the entire Seattle team after three minutes and fourteen seconds of overtime and drove the puck into the Seattle net.

Clint Smith sent the Lions off to a one-goal lead in the last half-minute of the opening session, when he caught the Sea Hawks flat-footed. The entire Seattle team started a rush but Bobby Kirk broke up the attack at centre ice, and passed to Smith at the Seattle blue line. Emmett Venne, in the Sea Hawks' goal, came out to meet Smith but the tricky Vancouver centre circled the netminder and flipped the puck into the open cage.

SEA HAWKS EVEN COUNT

Sea Hawks tied the score in the first two minutes of the middle period. "Cam" Proudlock broke through the Vancouver defence but Johnny Clark, Lions' goalie, stopped the shot. Proudlock grabbed the rebound and passed it across the goalmouth to Les Whittles, who pushed it into a corner of the cage.

Returned as Head of Duncan Lawn Tennis Club at Annual Meeting—Reports Tendered

DUNCAN, March 27.—The annual general meeting of the Duncan Lawn Tennis Club was held recently at the Agricultural Hall, the president, F. G. Aldersey, occupying the chair. The president's report referred to the success, financial and otherwise, of the open tournament held by the club last year, and laid stress on the efforts of the committee to attract a good class of tennis players to the district. The annual financial statement showed the club to be in a satisfactory condition, all liabilities paid and a credit balance on hand.

The following officers were elected for the coming season: Honorary president, C. H. Dickie, M.P., C. F. Davis, Hugh Savage, M.P.; honorary vice-presidents, E. M. Dawson-Thomas, H. Humphreys and H. F. Prevost; president, F. G. Aldersey; vice-president, Colonel M. Dopping Hensel; secretary, Mrs. F. N. Staples; committee, Mrs. F. G. Aldersey, Miss W. Dawson-Thomas, A. M. Dirom, A. S. Appleby and J. F. Parker.

Plans for the coming season include a festival of tennis, and other games, to be held early in the season. Votes of thanks to the president and to the honorary auditor, E. M. Dawson-Thomas, concluded the meeting.

ERNEST H. HARRIS NAMED PRESIDENT

Vancouver Island Cyclist Club Will Hold First Ride Next Sunday Afternoon

Ernest H. Harris was elected president of the Vancouver Island Cyclist Club at its first meeting last night in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium.

G. T. Reynolds was chosen vice-president. Donald Harvey was named secretary, and Robert White, treasurer. The new executives will take up the business of completing the organization of the club. Club badges and membership cards will be ordered immediately.

The first ride will be held on Sunday, and will start at 2 p.m. from 738 Port Street. It was decided.

Plans regarding the ride to Nanaimo were outlined by Mr. Harris. It will begin at 8 a.m. on April 27. The club will cycle to Brentwood, cross by the Mill Bay Ferry at 9 a.m., and reach Duncan around noon. Nanaimo will be reached late in the afternoon, where the club, after dinner, will attend the mass meeting being held there by the Tourist Trade Development Association. Accommodation for the night will be obtained at one of the hotels and the return trip made the next day.

Members feel this trip will be a pleasant one, and will be the first of many inter-city rides on the Island. Any non-member wishing to participate in the ride is asked to communicate with Mr. Harvey or Mr. Harris at 738 Port Street.

Membership of the club now stands at seventy-six, it was announced by T. H. Eslick, who presided at the meeting.

Soccer Activities

Victoria West First and Second Division football eleven will hold a workout this evening at the Royal Athletic Park, at 7 o'clock. All players are requested to attend.

Officials of the club stated yesterday evening that they are in favor of one Victoria team entering the Connaught Cup series, and further announced that they will do all in their power to bring such a scheme to a successful conclusion.

SPORT FLASHES

EDDIE SHORE

ONE OF THE GREATEST PLAYERS IN THE GAME TO-DAY

Built on the lines of a bungalow, short, stocky and bulky, Eddie Shore is again chosen on the N.H.L. all-star team. This is the third time in the last four years.

In 1933 Boston's bulky battering ram bounced his way through opposing sextettes, to be the leading scorers for defence men, compiling 35 points.

Shore never backs down, at home or on the road, when the going is tough. His fighting spirit has often transformed his slumping team into a steamed-up rampart, crew that rode roughshod through their opposition to turn defeat into victory.

Frank Patrick, the Bruins' mentor, tells this one on himself.

Back in the nineteen twenties Eddie Shore could not catch a berth on the Vancouver Lions and Patrick could not see Shore as an up and coming defence man. In consequence Patrick gave him the go-by. But today Patrick wouldn't trade him for that whole line-up.

Never has there come out of the West quite so colorful a player as the one pictured above, who right from the start of his turbulent career has always made news.

Shore's meteoric rise to stardom, while swift, has not been on any plush magic carpet. The bulging biceps that this battling Bruin uses to bowl over opposition were developed on our Western prairies, following a plough, railroading and generally leading the hard, rugged existence of a worthy son of sturdy Canadian forefathers.

Here's a thumbnail sketch of his career:

Purchased by Boston Bruins from Edmonton Eskimos in 1926, weight 188 pounds; height, 5 feet 11 inches; thirty years of age; born in Saskatchewan. Club affiliations: Melville Millionaires, '19, '24 and '25; Edmonton, '19, '25 and '26.

Married; his home, Edmonton, where, in off season, he retires from the limelight to lead the life of an average Canadian rancher, which is probably the reason why he reports to training camp in superb condition at the start of each year.

Temperament: Though he may be on the ice, Shore is nevertheless a quiet-spoken, normal individual in private life.

Trio of Horses Killed and Ten Jockeys Injured

SYDNEY, Australia, March 27 (CP).—Three race horses were killed today and ten jockeys injured in a pile-up on the track at Ascot in the midst of a hotly contested race.

The horses had covered two furlongs when ten of the fourteen starters were suddenly thrown into a flailing, struggling mass of beasts and humanity. The cause of the accident was not ascertained, but it was believed the leading horse fell with a broken leg and the others tripped over him.

The pile-up was the worst on the Australian turf since 1885, when sixteen horses fell and one jockey was killed during the running of the Caulfield Cup.

Jane Dixon Says:

GIRL WHOSE VISION RUNS TO A BUNGALOW FOR TWO WANTS CURE FOR BOY FRIEND WHO WANTS TO SEE WORLD.

If only women would take into account that men of their same age are so less mature, so much more adventuresome!

The age-old necessity for women taking out marriage insurance is telling heavily these days.

Dear Miss Dixon: I am nineteen and I am engaged to a boy four days older than myself. We planned to marry last September, but due to the financial conditions, we decided to wait. We have been engaged a year. Ever since we've gone together he has simply worshipped me. Until now. He has changed so much. Why, he has even tried to join the Navy.

I can say, without boast, that I am very popular among the young folks of our town. But I have never had a date with another boy since we have been engaged. I don't think he is being fair. To break our engagement would be embarrassing for us both.

I have always trusted him until he tried to enlist in the Navy.
His mother and father both object to me, because of an untruth told them about me. I am on the list to rank as one of the first students in my school. We are completing our school work this Spring.

Do you think his love is still true? Do you think his trying to get into the Navy means anything? He only took one examination and passed it, but after he told me about it, and I asked him to give it up, he didn't take another examination.

Please, Miss Dixon, do you think I should go on living in doubt?—Lonesome Margaret.

Answer: No Margaret, I do not think you should go on living in doubt, and I'll do my best to keep you from doing so.

Doesn't the fact that the nice boy who "worshipped you" wants to join the Navy mean anything to you? Doesn't it signify to you the fact that somewhere in that boy's spirit is a thirst for adventure, for knowing something about this wonderful globe on which we dwell, for experiencing something of this thrilling world in which we live?

Frankly, Margaret, I do not think that it is fair for a woman to ask, invidious or persuade a boy of nineteen to take on the responsibility of marriage unless marriage is his metier; unless he is content to settle down in the place where he was born, take the best available job and become a family man.

After all, each of us has only one life to live. We are entitled to live it as fully as we can.

If I were you, Margaret, I would tell my young man to join the Navy if he wants to go adventuring. Then I'd look for something I might do that would be colorful and filled with scenes and experience.
Women can't join the Navy, but there are plenty of other jobs they can hold these days, just as thrilling. Make up your mind what amounts to your navy job, go after it and keep plugging.

Suppose you talked him into marrying you—you've got to talk him into it now, deny it or not—and suppose you were happy for a few honey-moon months. And then suppose, when glamour wore into routine, your nineteen-year-old husband began to think about what he had missed. His chance to see the world. His chance to adventure in the world. Ships at sea. Strange ports. Strange people. The world that we all long to see and to know, deep down inside of us, unless we are clods?

Right there, my dear, is where the trouble would begin. That's where boy husbands start adventuring in the nearest handy place. They have the urge, but not the outlet. You're thinking about Hamburger steak, and he's thinking about Hamburg, Germany.

You tell me you have never had another date since you became engaged to him. I understand you perfectly. Real women who love don't care about other dates. But you must stop thinking about YOU for the time being. Try to think of a boy who loves his cage but who wants tremendously to fly. Don't be a cage. Let the bird fly. If he loves you enough, he'll fly back. If he doesn't, why not know it before you pay a cage for two?

About his father and mother and the false alarm. Don't worry about that. False alarms have made no difference with lovers on a serious mission since the world began. As a matter of fact, all alarms, false or true, give impetus to laggard lover's heels.

The only fair thing for you and for the boy, if he is not ready for marriage, is to break your engagement, or at least to agree to hold marriage in abeyance until such time as you both are ready to accept its responsibilities. A broken engagement is not nearly so embarrassing as a wrecked marriage. There is nothing embarrassing, to my mind, about realizing one has made a mistake, having the courage to acknowledge it, and the spirit to go ahead and rectify it.

THE LOVE FLIGHT
by Jane Dixon

CHAPTER XXVIII
Madame Hoag read the note Anne handed her. She let out a bellow—of mirth, not of rage. She laughed until the tears streamed down her face.

"Look at them words, Fin," Madame managed between bellowings. "That secretary fellow Henry what's his name, must have swallowed a dictionary. Look at this one, Fin.
Derry—derry—back—him. What does he mean by that?"

"I think, Madame, that he means he has fallen down on his job," Anne was laughing, too. Madame's mirth was contagious.

"Fallen down on his job, huh?
When I get through with him he won't have a job to fall down on.
Little squirt!"

"Don't blame the secretary, Madame," Anne said. "He has only done what he is required to do. He may need his job, desperately. I know the reason for the note: Today, at the Surf Club, I met a man who doesn't like me. He resented me being there. He has registered his objections."

"Um. And who is this big bug who objects to my guest? Who is he?"

"His name is Craig Braden."
Madame plopped into a chair.
"Braden," she said. "That's the one you give the air to, as Dolph says.
Sassiest. So we got his goat! Listen,
Fin, I've had more fun since you been here than a barrel of monkeys.
I saw him. He was with a girl in short pants—short pants and a big red hat."

"I'm sorry to have caused you this embarrassment."
"Embarrassment!" Madame let loose another bellow of mirth. "Do I look embarrassed? Why, Fin, I ain't even mad. I'm tickled. A couple months ago that club was way in the hole. Looked like it would blow up higher'n a kite. Members couldn't pay their dues what with Wall Street shearing 'em close to their hides. So two of the directors came to me. They asked for a loan. I made 'em one, fat enough to make their heads swim. When I tell 'em Henry what's-his-name's bothering me about my guests and I'll have to call the loan in, you'll see some fun."

A week passed. To Anne's delight, Madame did not press the matter of a return to the Surf Club.
Anne managed, for the most part,
to avoid being driven on her errands by Carl Case. When an encounter was necessary, she was coolly polite, issuing her orders curtly. He returned her conduct in kind. Once, handing her into the blue car, he touched her hand. She stumbled, and was enraged at herself for what she called her "awkwardness." In the honesty of her mind she knew it was not her feet but her heart that had tripped.

Eleven o'clock in the morning,
Anne, in Madame's round boudoir, was going over the mail.
"There's an invitation for you and
Mr. Hoag from Mr. and Mrs. Bruno
Beasley. A dinner for the French Ambassador." Anne held up the white engraved card.

"Ain't she the one we met on the beach that day?" Madame asked.
"Yes. She came to the cabana while we were lunching."
"Throw it in the waste-basket. I don't like her. She's phoney."

The telephone rang. Anne answered it, and said, "No, this is Anna Brent. Anna. Brent. Oh—"
Then to Madame, "It's Maida Suid-dam, my cousin, the one who made a scene here."

Madame chuckled. "If we stay here long enough, Fin, we'll have the whole kit and boodle of 'em camping on our doorstep. Find out what she wants."

Anne turned to the phone. "Yes—I'd rather not. But, Maida—I must consult Madame Hoag." Anne said aside: "She insists that I come to her home. She says it's necessary that I come. She sounds terribly excited."

"Tell her if she wants to see you she should come here. What's she got to do except gad?"
"I'll see you, Maida," Anne said.
"You'll have to come to Bois Joli.
No. I can't do it possibly. I'm very busy. I'll ask Madame Hoag what hour would be convenient."

"One o'clock," Madame said. "But tell her she'd better be prompt. I'm going out to lunch, and I might need you any time after one-fifteen. You can leave word to have her sent straight to your room."

"One o'clock," Anne said into the receiver. "Be prompt, please. I'll leave word you are to be shown to my room."

Anne finished the correspondence.
What had impelled Maida to call her—imperiously at first, in the end, an abject plea. What was there between Maida and herself that demanded a reckoning? Everything had been reckoned, and found wanting. But Maida had refused to let her go. "Please, Anne, you must."

The crystal and gilt clock in Anne's room chimed one o'clock.
Simultaneously, Mrs. Suiddam was announced.

Maida came into Anne's room a bit hesitantly. Some of the old arrogance remained, but it was a passive rather than an active annoyance. Perfectly groomed as always,
Maida was, tall and cold and aloof.
But even the most perfect grooming could not conceal the havoc smudged by fear under the prominent grey eyes and thin tight lips.

"Anne, dear," Maida advanced in a little rush. "I know you're wondering why I come to you—after I was such a rotter—that night you were in trouble. Trouble—I've never known what it was. I know now."
"I'm sorry," Anne said. "Won't you sit down?"

"I can't sit down. I can't sleep.
I can't do anything but think, think, think. The more I think the more impossible it all seems. Anne, something perfectly horrible has happened to Jack and to me." Maida's lips shone blue around their line of orange rouge. Her voice faded with the fright that was in her. "Jack has lost everything we have, his money, my money—everything."
